Bolt Knocks Out Phones, 2 Buildings Hit

Heavy Rainfall Slows Traffic; City Hall and Coliseum Are Struck

At least two Marion buildings were struck by lightning and telephone service in one section of the city was disrupted during the year's first severe electrical storm last night.

Marion was in the center of the storm when cold air moving out of Canada and warmer tropical gulf air met over the state.

Accompanying the lightning and thunder was a heavy rainfall. Slightly over an inch of rain fell during the heaviest downpour of the year.

Traffic Stops

Traffic in the area was brought to a halt during the heavy downpour. Basketball fans returning from tournament play at Westerville were forced to stop during their journey home when the driving torrent made visibility impossible.

The two buildings hit by lightning were the new City Hall and Veterans Memorial Coliseum.

The storm started shortly after 9 p.m. last night and abated just before 5 a.m. this morning.

Jack Boyd of General Telephone Co. of Ohio reported this morning that about 500 telephones in the Superior St. and Irey Ave. area were out of order.

He said a bolt of lightning had struck a high tension wire and the wire fell across the telephone cable, burning out the wires inside the cable. Boyd said that if the trouble is confined to the area where the two wires crossed, service would be restored sometime this afternoon. If it spread, though, it will be some time before service can be restored.

Area Service Disrupted

Boyd also said that scattered calls had come in from rural areas where lightning had disrupted service. He said only a few such reports had been received.

At the City Hall, lightning which apparently came down an elevator shaft knocked out a number of telephones. The roof of the Coliseum was hit with no major damage but water entered the building through an opening made by the bolt. Lights there were also out for nearly a full hour as a result of the lightning.

A high reading of 57 was reported in Marion yesterday and the overnight low was only 50. At noon today, the temperature was at 59 but the Ohio weather forecast called for colder weather this afternoon and tonight and scattered thunderstorms.

Snow in Washington

Elsewhere around wide sections of the country, weather ranged from freezing rain to snow.

There was a thunderstorm with freezing rain at Utica, N.Y. It was 60 above during the night at Dayton, Ohio. Cold wave warnings

Train Strikes and Kills Deer 6 Miles From City

A deer which picked the wrong time to cross the New York Central Railroad tracks west of Marion Thursday will be the main meal for children at the Marion County Children's Home for the next few days.

Sheriff's deputies received a report at 4:23 p.m. Thursday that the New York Central train No. 742 had struck and killed a doe about six miles west of Marion. The animal weighed between 200 and 225 pounds, deputies reported.

John Waters, county game warden, took the animal to the Children's Home. It was believed to have been one of four deer seen by residents in the area during the last few days.

Special Church Bus Service To Begin Sunday

Four Routes Planned; Project Sponsored by Nine Congregations

Special church - sponsored Sunday morning bus service will be offered in Marion beginning Sunday. Buses will operate on four routes to bring passengers to the downtown churches.

Stops will be made at the doors of nine co-operating downtown churches, and buses will pick up passengers after church at the same point or across the street, Francis Pogue, local manager for the Marion City Lines, said.

Downtown Service

It was emphasized by both Pogue and Rev. Warren W. Lindstrom, who is acting for the churches, that this will be only downtown service. There will be no crosstown runs. However, persons who live on the bus routes which pass outlying churches may signal for stops at those churches.

Two east routes and the two west routes which are traveled on weekdays by the buses will be combined on Sunday mornings. The same territories will be covered in this plan, however.

The Davids St. and Silver St. run will leave from the corner of George and N. Prospect Sts. at 8:15 a.m. The E. Center St. and Mt. Vernon Ave. run will leave the corner of Church and State Sts. at 8:30. The Northeast Loop run will leave Main and George Sts. at 8:40, and the Southwest Loop will leave State and Center Sts. at 8:40.

Churches Cooperating

Churches making use of the plan are Central Christian, Epworth Methodist, Calvary EUB, Trinity Baptist, First Presbyterian, Prospect Street Methodist, First EUB, Emanuel Lutheran and First Church of the Nazarene. Churches will be reached in this

China Mutual Defense Pact Talks Continue

U.S. Officials Meet With Chiang Aides, Discuss Air Strength

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—High-level talks designed to put teeth into the U.S.-Nationalist China Mutual Defense Pact got under way today.

One result is expected to be a boost in the flow of U. S. military aid to Chiang Kai-shek's forces.

The agenda was not disclosed, but the conferees probably tackled these questions:

1. The air strength—U.S. and Nationalist combined—necessary to assure reasonable protection of Formosa.

2. Air and naval cover necessary to safeguard Quemoy and the Matsus.

3. Possible targets on the mainland if, as U.S. Secretary of State Dulles said yesterday before leaving for Washington, "it cannot be assumed . . . that the aggressor would enjoy immunity with respect to the areas from which he stages his offensive."

Sitting in for the United States were Adm. Robert B. Carney, U.S. chief of naval operations; Adm. Felix B. Stump, commanding the U.S. Pacific Fleet; Vice Adm. Alfred M. Pride, commanding the U.S. 7th Fleet; Maj. Gen. William C. Chase, head of the Military Assistance Advisory Group; and Rear Adm. Frederick N. Kivette, commanding the U.S. Formosa Strait patrol.

Representing Nationalist China were Foreign Minister George Yeh, Defense Minister Yu Ta-wei and Gen. Peng Meng-chi, acting chief of the general staff.

Official Nationalist circles were reported to be "very happy" over the exchange of views yesterday between Dulles and Chiang.

Nationalist quarters appear confident that the United States will inervene against any really large-scale amphibious atacks against Quemoy and the Matsus.

Such intervention could bring about a conflict with Red China that might not be localized.

Senate Defeat Of Income Tax Cut Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Byrd (D-Va) said today "a minimum of 10" Democratic senators will vote with him against the plan of House Democrats to cut everybody's income taxes by $20.

Such a Democratic vote would appear to assure defeat of the income tax reduction in the Senate if Republican lines hold tight against it as GOP leaders are predicting. There are 49 Democrats and 47 Republicans in the Senate.

Sen. Clements (D-Ky), acting majority leader, has made it plain the party leadership will fight vigorously for the $20 plan pushed through the House by Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) despite administration opposition. The Senate Finance Committee, headed by Byrd, voted 9-6 to strike the income tax cut out of the bill.

One Senate Republican leader said privately a poll indicated his side would lose only one vote.

The tax bill would continue corporation income and excise tax rates which otherwise would drop April 1, costing three billions in anual revenue. The administration backs this feature.

Big Highways Suggested for Raid Defense

Kefauver Says U.S. Will Need Wide Roads For Speedy Evacuation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) urged today revision of the administration's highway construction program to include roads adequate to evacuate persons from hydrogen bomb target cities.

Unless this is done, he said, the question of building shelters along highways outside the deadly blast area will be "academic" because no one will get to them.

Heads Subcommittee

Kefauver is chairman of a Senate Armed Services subcommittee on civil defense. At a hearing yesterday it was told of emergency plans for digging trenches or laying concrete pipes along highways to shield persons from the poisonous radioactive fall-out from H-bombs.

The testimony was given by Civil Defense Administrator Val Peterson, who was asked to return for another hearing today.

President Eisenhower has said one purpose of the highway construction program he submitted to Congress is to relieve congestion and speed evacuation of target cities in case of an atomic attack.

Peterson said a partial test evacuation of Milwaukee recently had shown that the expenditure of a relatively small amount of money for widening roads and bridges could speed up greatly the emptying of a city.

Kefauver asked him to get further information from the Federal Bureau of Public Roads and state Civil Defense officials on highway needs and plans.

Could Effect 50 Million

Peterson said it was likely that at least 50 million Americans might have to be evacuated from critical target areas if an H-bomb attack were launched against the country.

He said half of them might be accommodated in homes, churches, schools, culverts or other existing structures. For the others he said his plan was to make use of the protection afforded by the earth, either in roadside trenches 2 feet wide and 6 feet deep, or in miles of roadside concrete pipe 4 feet in diameter and covered with 3 feet of dirt.

He said that persons who crawled into these would have "complete protection" from the radioactive dust.

Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass) said he didn't think either of the plans was feasible. He said he couldn't see himself crawling into a dirt-covered pipe without getting a bad case of claustrophobia.

Two High School Girls Die in Crash

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP)—Two high school girls were killed and four others injured critically today when their car collided with a Nickel Plate freight train one half mile west of Arcadia in Hancock County.

The dead girls were identified as Gretta Armbrecht and Marjorie Harmon of Hancock County.

The injured, all in critical condition, are Carolyn Wickhiser, taken to Fostoria City Hospital; her sister, Dona; Barbara Jane Agnew and Marlene Dielbley, all taken to Blanchard Valley Hospital.

All the girls have been attending Arcadia High School.

The state highway patrol said the girls were en route to a county-wide music audition at McComb, and that the driver of their car did not see the train because of heavy fog.

Egypt's and Israel's Rival Charges on Border Clash Eyed by Security Council

WRECKAGE LEFT BY ARAB RIOTERS IN GAZA STRIP. This is part of the wreckage left after two days of rioting in Gaza, Egypt, by refugee Arabs protesting alleged attacks upon Egyptian forces by Israeli troops. The rioters attacked five United Nations relief stations. At least 47 Egyptian and Israeli troops have been killed in the most recent border clashes.

'Your Fault,' Says Each of Bloody Fight

Countercharge Made By Palestine on Cairo Claim of 'Aggression'

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., (AP) — The U.N. Security Council turned today to Egyptian charges and Israeli countercharges touched off by Monday night's bloody border fighting near Gaza.

The explosive tension resulting from the clashes — in which 38 Egyptians and eight Israelis were reported killed—was heightened by militant statements from the Egyptian and Israeli premiers and Egyptian progress toward a new Arab military lineup against Israel.

May Postpone Discussion

There was some expectations the council would postpone its discussion of the rival charges until after a report from the Egypt - Israel - U.N. Mixed Armistice Commission in Palestine. The commission, which supervises the 1949 truce along the Egypt-Israel border, is expected to meet Sunday on the Gaza fighting.

In Jerusalem a spokesman for the truce organization said its chief, Canadian Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, had sent the Security Council a report on Monday's clash. Burns visited the scene of the incident yesterday.

Egypt Wednesday charged Israeli forces with "violent and premeditated aggression" in the 60-mile-long Gaza coastal strip occupied by the Egyptians.

Termed 'Most Brutal Act'

Egypt charged Israel's troops with attacking a military camp near the ancient city of Gaza, two miles inside the territory, and with ambushing a truckload of reinforcements. Egypt termed this the "most brutal act of aggression" since the 1949 armistice.

Israel's countercomplaint, filed yesterday, made no mention of the Gaza battle but accused Egypt of "continuous violations" of the armistice agreement and council resolutions. It charged:

(1) armed attacks on Israeli troops, (2) raids on Israeli citizens, (3) Egyptian failure to prevent such acts, (4) assertion of a state of war and exercise of active belligerency against Israel, including a blockade, (5) "warlike propaganda and threats," and (6) refusal to negotiate a peace treaty to replace the armistice.

Unusual Strategy

The complaint was in line with Israel's usual strategy of trying to shift such council debates from particular incidents to the general Arab-Israeli situation and the need for an over-all, long-term solution.

Earlier Israeli statements in Jerusalem on the Gaza fighting charged the Egyptians attacked first inside Israel and were chased back into Egypt.

In Damascus yesterday, Egypt and Syria anounced they had signed a new defense pact which Syrian Prime Minister Sabri Assali said resulted from the need

Head of Stock Exchange Sees No Danger Yet

Current High Prices Are Based on Sound Factors, He Declares

WASHINGTON (AP) — Edward T. McCormick, president of the American Stock Exchange, testified today that in spite of record-high and still rising stock prices "we have not reached a danger point in the stock market."

McCormick was invited before the Senate Banking Committee in its inquiry into the stock market—an inquiry that seemed for the moment to be focusing on efforts of the financial community to draw millions of new investors into the market.

Like yesterday's leadoff witness, President G. Keith Funston of the New York Stock Exchange, McCormick said current high prices are based on such sound factors as strong business activity and confidence of investors.

McCormick on the whole voiced a firmer degree of confidence in the market outlook than did Funston, who said the possibility of a 1929-type crash can't be ruled out. Funston said he himself, however, is continuing to buy stocks.

The American Stock Exchange, which McCormick heads, is one of the two securities exchanges in this country with nationwide facilities. It has 1,800 members in 447 cities and its trading volume is second only to that of the New York exchange.

McCormick said in his prepared statement he sees no indication of "excessive or unsound use of credit" in the market today.

And he said the fact that market price indices "have risen above the peaks which they attained in September of 1929 should not in itself be accorded too much significance."

"Whereas the stock market average shows an increase from 1929

Railroad Cook Car Burns With Loss of $3,000

Damage estimated at $3,000 resulted when an Erie Railroad cooking car, located near the Kenton Ave. crossing, caught fire early this morning. This was one of four runs made Thursday and early today by the Marion Fire Department.

A railroad worker, sleeping in the car, which was one of a group of cars in a work camp outfit, discovered the fire in the interior and notified firemen at 1:45 a.m.

Railroad officials said the damage was caused mainly to the interior of the car. A nearby railroad car was scorched and received smoke damage.

Cause of the fire is undetermined, Fire Chief O. A. Sifritt said. The township truck and firemen from the W. Center St. station answered the call. They fought the fire for two hours and 15 minutes.

Earlier at 12:22 a.m., firemen from the Central station were called to the Snyder Hotel, 136 N. State St., when a guest, smoking in bed, set fire to the mattress and bed clothes. Loss was estimated at $50.

At 7:27 p.m. Thursday, firemen from the W. Center St. station and the township truck responded to a call from the Eaton Manufacturing Co. plant on Route 95 west of the city limits. Sparks from a grinder had set fire to a dust collector. There was no loss, Fire Chief Sifritt said.

The inhalator was requested at 11:30 p.m. Thursday to the Lowell O. Davis home at 578 E. Farming St. It was operated 20 minutes successfully on Martin Allen, 76, who was suffering from bronchial pneumonia. He was taken to the Marion General Hospital in an ambulance.

New Explosion Dooms City on Hawaii Island

PAHOA, Hawaii (AP)—A natural fault leading directly through Kapoho erupted in a fiery explosion shortly before last midnight and an eyewitness said "the city is doomed."

The explosion came 2½ hours after a 20-square mile area around the town had been evacuated after the earth began popping open.

Asst. Police Chief George Martin said "everyone got out."

Hiroshi Okka, a Pahoa school teacher, went back to the deserted area and said he saw a fountain of lava spurting in the center of town.

Kapoho is directly on the Puna Rift, a chain of craters stretching from Kilauea Crater on the side of Mauna Loa to the sea. It is on the eastern tip of the island of Hawaii. Volcano experts say it represents no danger to the other islands.

The region, shaken by earthquakes and splattered by spouting lava since Monday, began exploding open again at 8 p.m. It was clear of humans two hours later.

An hour afterward Reginald Ho, a Pahoa garage owner, volunteered to go back to see that no one had been left behind.

CIO Supports Eisenhower's Trade Stand

Suggests Government Take Action To Ease Its Impact on Industry

WASHINGTON (AP)—The CIO today urged approval of President Eisenhower's liberalized trade program along with ways of easing its impact on some domestic workers and industries.

James B. Carey, CIO secretary-treasurer, told the Senate Finance Committee that his organization has a "long, historical record of support for liberalization of American trade policies through the reciprocal trade programs."

But, he said in his prepared statement, "we cannot be blind to the fact that, as a result of the continued reciprocal trade program, injury may occur, in certain instances, as the result of imports into the United States . . .

"The United States will be able to maintain its liberalized trade program only so long as the United States is prepared to deal effectively with the problems created by imports which tend to solidify the protectionist position against a lib-

Proctorville Man Who Saw Lincoln Dies at 104

IRONTON, Ohio (AP) — Edward Layne, who never tired of telling stories about his recollections of the Civil War and of seeing Abraham Lincoln, died yesterday at nearby Proctorville at the age of 104.

Layne, a native of Prestonsburg, Ky., is survived by his widow, Mary, 85. He also leaves 9 children, 22 grandchildren, 28 great grandchildren and five great-great-grandchildren.

The son of Kentucky slaves, he had been in semi-retirement from his farming chores for the past 25 years.

Regular Radiation Tests Begun by Health Office

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's health department has inaugurated a testing system to guard against any radiation dangers in the air we breathe and the water we drink.

There's not much concern now over radiation dangers from the state's atomic energy installations.

Check Air, Water

But state health authorities, with an eye to the future when atoms-for-peace become a reality and nuclear power plants are operating, have started to check the state's water and atmosphere.

Every week, at four points in the state — Columbus, Bowling Green, Cuyahoga Falls and Athens —tests are taken. So far, health authorities report, there's nothing to worry about.

They have a cautious eye turned toward a point just across the Pennsylvania line, near East Liverpool. There the Duquesne Power and Light Co. is building the nation's first large-scale atomic power plant. By-products of the plant's nuclear fission will go into the Ohio River and sweep along Ohio's southern border.

Further downstream, the Pike County Atomic plant is getting into operation. Its refuse, too, feeds into the Ohio via the Scioto.

Used for Comparison

The Miami River has two Atomic Energy Commission establishments along its banks. One is an experimental laboratory at Miamisburg. The other is a uranium refining plant at Fernald, near Cincinnati.

At Lockland, General Electric is working on a test plant for har-

No Action in 4 Months

Constitutional Dispute Holds Up Harlan Okay

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nearly four months have passed since President Eisenhower nominated Judge John Marshall Harlan, of New York, to be a Supreme Court justice.

Adding another to the series of delays, the Senate Judiciary Committee met yesterday without acting on the nomination. Instead, it set next Wednesday for a vote on whether to recommend Senate confirmation.

Reason for Delay

What held up Senate action so long on the appointment of the 55-year-old lawyer—especially when no one questioned his integrity or his legal ability?

The shift in control of Congress from Republicans to Democrats was one reason. The Judiciary Committee had to reorganize.

But of more importance was a controversy that sprang up reminiscent of the angry Senate battle last year over the proposed constitutional amendment of Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) to curb treaty powers.

World Views Questioned

It dealt with Harlan's views on world government and on whether treaties might override the United States Constitution and state laws. It was raised by his membership on the National Advisory Council of the Atlantic Union Committee.

Harlan denied he was a "one-worlder," and said he did not favor any surrender of American sovereignty. He said he had not been active in the Atlantic Union group, and had not even paid dues.

Suggestions also have been advanced that this controversy was

School Teacher Walkout In Texas Enters 4th Day

IRVING, Tex. (AP)—A walkout by schoolteachers entered its fourth day today.

The superintendent had been fired and was appealing. Nine principals and executives who supported him had been discharged.

Mothers, fathers, retired teachers and substitute teachers manned classrooms, lunchrooms and school buses—under police guard.

Began Last Summer

Spokesmen for absent teachers said a row between the board and administrative personnel began smoldering last summer after teachers swung some precinct conventions to "liberal" Democratic governor candidate Ralph Yarborough. They said a "political clique" in this booming little city of 25,000 near Dallas didn't like it.

"I don't believe it stems from local politics," Board President Charles Young said. "Certainly there are political cliques in any community, but to attribute to that the local debacle of the last two weeks is fantastic.

Board 'Ready With Charges'

Scores of teachers quit classrooms after the board fired Supt. John Beard Feb. 18 and refused to reconsider its action. Beard, 53, who holds a doctorate from the University of Texas, had been superintendent here 5½ years. He drew $9,700 a year and had two years to go on his contract. He is appealing to State Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar.

Beard said he was ousted because "a political clique in the community got control of the school board."

Ashville Belted

Mount Gilead Nails 70-53 Verdict in District Contest

Mount Gilead's classy district championship defenders rode roughshod over Ashville last night in district tournament play at Westerville for a 70-53 verdict.

It was the 18th win against three setbacks for Frank Truitt's cagers. The Indians went ahead in the opening minute of play on a fielder by John Staley and were never headed. The Pickway County champions managed to stay in the game until midway in the first stanza when the Indians began pulling away.

—:—

DROPPING IN 12 of 14 attempts from the free throw line in the first eight minutes, Mount Gilead held a 20-10 lead at the quarter way mark.

With Dick Zolman and John Mosher cleaning both boards, Jim Sweeney and Gene Brush setting up the plays and Staley operating in the pivot, the Indians continued to demonstrate why they are favored to repeat in their defense of the crown.

By the halftime intermission, the winners had forged to a healthy 34-21 edge and had the Ashville quintet reeling. The winners carried a 55-33 cushion into the final period and Truitt cleaned his bench.

Staley set the pace for the winners with 17 markers and Brush and Zolman each netted 14. Mosher and Sweeney finished with nine each. Dick Brown with 12 and Dale Pettibone with 10 were tops for the losers.

THE INDIANS return to action tonight when they take on Amanda in the final game at 8:30. West Jefferson and Magnetic Springs collide in the opener at 7 p.m. The winner of the Mount Gilead-Amanda clash will be pitted against the winner of the Prospect-Liberty Union contest Saturday. Fish and Game Group Watches Hunting Movie

When the Marion County Fish & Game Association met in the group's new club house for its regular monthly meeting Tuesday night, Don Hinton showed a series of pictures on salt water and fresh water fishing and on a recent hunting trip he made.

Francis Warwick, association president, and Charles Cocherl reported on a recent League of Ohio Sportsmen meeting in Columbus. Announcement was made of the second in a series of social meetings scheduled for Saturday night at the club house. Members and their wives are invited to attend.

The association has instructors available for gun handling classes and groups of boys between 10 and 14 can arrange for a class by contacting Harold VanHouten or Bob Bindley. A site for trap shooting is being sought by the group.

Refreshments were served to 68 members at the close of the meting by the kitchen committee.

Graham, Vejar Battle in TV's Feature Scrap

NEW YORK (AP) — Two of the ring's real gentlemen, aging Billy Graham and eager young Chico Vejar, battle it out tonight in a bout regarded as a tossup at Madison Square Garden.

They are friends and respect each other but will prove once again in their 10-rounder that there is no place in the ring for sentiment.

This is a big one for both. It could be the last for the 33-year-old Graham, who is desperately trying to get back in the runing "for four or more fights." The veteran of 14 years and 124 pro bouts wants to pile up some extra cash to go into business.

"I guess this is the test," said the New Yorker. "I've never lost three in a row before and if I can't beat Vejar I might just as well pack it in. He has nothing to beat me with. He's easy to hit, has a push-button chin, and can't punch hard enough to bother me."

But Billy will be fighting Father Time as well as an aggressive, ambitious 23-year-old. In losing his last two to Chris Christensen, a nothing fighter, and Ramon Fuentes, Graham showed how far he had slipped from the lofty days of several years ago. Then he was the No. 1 contender who had come within a shade of taking the welterweight crown from Kid Gavilan.

Battle Over Proposed Gas Rate Increase Enters Its Second Day

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The battle over proposed gas rate increases for some 70 industrial and field consumers in Ohio enters its second day today before the state utilities commission.

The Natural Gas Co. of West Virginia has asked the commission to approve the request for annual increases totaling $135,000. The firm says it is not realizing a fair rate of return on its investment.

The big argument presented by customers protesting the suggested rate hikes is that the company overstated its property value by no allowing enough for depreciation. Opponents say Natural Gas Co. should have included retired field and transmission lines in property depreciation. Property values help determine rates a utility can charge.

The company says such lines are no longer considered physical property.

Another question before the commission is Natural Gas Co.'s appeal from an Alliance city ordinance regulating the price that may be charged for gas service in the city.

In yesterday's hearing, attorneys representing protestants alleged the firm's 1953 property inspection for evaluation purposes was not adequate.

Natural Gas Co. now is operating under emergency rates set up June 16, 1954, which gave the concern a $689,000 annual rate increase for residential and commercial consumers. The company probably will merge with the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. if the increase is granted, an Ohio Fuel spokesman said yesterday. Both companies are subsidiaries of the Columbia Gas System.

Answer Needed on Streets

A recent news article on bumpy Marion streets and the city's plan to repair them again after winter's inroads without instituting major improvements causes us to wonder how long this patchwork system will continue to do the trick.

Patching is always necessary in the spring, of course, but some of our major thoroughfares are nearing the point where no amount of patching will cure what ails them. They are suffering from an incurable malady—old age. They're rough in a way that can be corrected only by complete improvement programs.

City officials report there are no funds available for more than minor repairs, and Mayor Robinson has declared he is not in favor of going to the citizens with a tax levy or bond issue for street improvement.

The forthcoming traffic survey should provide many of the answers on main arteries in Marion and could make any major repair or construction projects in certain areas unwise at present.

Nevertheless, the bumpy street problem is one that must be faced fairly soon. We certainly have no pat answers, but we believe the time is nearing when the whole street situation must be examined thoroughly.

In addition to the wear and tear on local residents and their cars, the adverse affect on outsiders passing through our city creates an impression considerably less favorable than we would like to have it.

Quest for Survival

Civil defense in the atomic age is one of the knottiest problems with which our government has ever had to grapple.

What seems to make good sense today is impractical tomorrow as new, and more deadly weapons are developed.

President Eisenhower has proposed that Congress establish a special commission to study the problem and Defense Mobilizer Arthur Flemming followed quickly with the suggestion that the commission's first task be to work out a method of dispersing the nation's prime atomic targets.

It is hoped that sufficient vital information can be made available to permit Congress to act on survival legislation during the present session.

As the government continues to test nuclear and thermonuclear weapons, it becomes increasingly apparent that much of our thinking to date is obsolete.

But the reduction of disastrous effects of blast and heat, when accompanied by protective measures against fallout, is still possible and new methods must be devised to achieve it.

It is the responsibility of civil defense authorities to see to it that human and industrial targets in any atomic war do not go by default. No perfect defense has yet been or perhaps ever will be devised. Based on our experience with radiation, we can only hope that those who are working feverishly on the problem will come up with the best protection possible under extremely hazardous conditions.

Local civil defense officials all over the country are keenly aware of the apathy that makes their work so extremely difficult. Unfortunately but understandably, people everywhere are taking a fatalistic view of the awful consequences of atomic attack.

From the fragmentary information that has been made available to them, they see little chance for survival.

Their reaction seems to center pretty largely around the hope that the awful portent of atomic war will influence those in a position to wage it to understand that there can be no victory—only defeat.

But the search for a defense will go on, as it should. And unless we find it first, our fate in the hands of a ruthless enemy would almost certainly be sealed.

One Phase Finished

The organization familiarly known as CARE, which for some years has made it easy for individuals and groups in the United States to send uniform parcels to persons known or unknown in 38 foreign countries, will cease this service April 8 for eight European countries.

The evidence is that these countries now have an adequate supply of the CARE-specialty materials.

The eight nations affected are Great Britain, Norway, Belgium, France, Luxembourg, West Germany, Austria and The Netherlands.

From its general headquarters in New York and from many branch offices over the U.S. and in foreign lands, the Cooperative for American Remittances to Everywhere, Inc. (formerly "to Europe") long ago took the gift parcel idea out of the hands of racketeers and made of its work a great beneficient enterprise.

Since May, 1946, CARE has distributed 165 million dollars worth of food, clothing, cloth, medicines, tools, utensils, blankets, baby layettes, soap and scores of other commodities. About half of these goods went to the eight countries.

A great many Americans in military or military government service in foreign lands after World War II ended, paid $5 to $50 time after time to have CARE packets delivered to distressed foreign families they had met.

These and other symbols of American generosity will be remembered long after the government's gratuities have been forgotten.

Peace Era Dawning

By David Lawrence

West's Atomic Superiority Deterring War Lords

Something indefinable but of tremendous significance has emerged lately which can best be described as a confidence that World War III is not imminent nor likely to occur in the next few years.

Just how long President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Churchill have felt this way is not generally known. But there is evidence that some time within the last few months both governments came to the conclusion that it was safe to maintain conventional armaments at present levels or even on a reduced basis because the progress of the nuclear weapon side had become almost fantastic in its potentiality.

Briefly, the concept is that Soviet Russia not only will not venture to start a big war but will restrain her allies, including Red China, from doing so.

This means that the United States and Britain know — and perhaps the Moscow government also knows — that the free world has produced already enough weapons of nuclear variety to deter any hostile nation from starting a third World War.

What are these weapons? Obviously no details can be given by officials, but it is apparent from the published material and the testimony before congressional committees that great reliance is being placed on the guided missile.

IT IS CONCEIVABLE that some day missiles will be shot from American territory which can travel 5,000 miles or more to a target. Already there is a missile which can go a large part of that distance and which can be fired from many of the bases at which America has stationed her forces in Europe.

When it is considered that a guided missile carrying A-bombs or H-bombs or a combination of various kinds of nuclear weapons can be sent at lightning speed through the air to a target that can be reached with a fair degree of accuracy, it may be said that the biggest single deterrent to war has been invented.

The public discussion at the moment is in generalities. Thus President Eisenhower was told at his press conference that Prime Minister Churchill had said that "Western superiority in the hydrogen bomb will prevent Russia from starting a big war within the next three or four years." When the President was asked to comment, he replied that "we do know that the Western World has, has had and enjoyed a great lead in this whole field."

The truly important part of Eisenhower's answer was this: "How long that lead can be sustained is problematical, and again another factor enters this question. There comes a time, possibly, when a lead is not significant in the defensive arrangements of a country. If you get enough of a particular type of weapon, I doubt that it is particularly important to have a lot more of it."

What was meant here was not necessarily the status of scientific progress on bombs or the quantity production of bombs.

The point is that, once a nation gets a plentiful supply of nuclear weapons and can set up a defensive line through which the enemy cannot hope to penetrate without incurring a "massive retaliation," then it is no longer necessary to rely on larger and larger quantities of ammunition or weapons.

The guided missile ultimately can be shot from continent to continent. It will not of itself conquer territory for a government using that weapon, but it can threaten such devastation as to make war impractical. When weapons become so destructive, the side which wishes to start a war must decide not between victory or defeat as heretofore, but between survival or suicide.

THERE ARE ALWAYS chances that reckless rulers may start wars but, as information about the potential power of the new weapons becomes available to all governments, the probability of a conflict is reduced almost to the vanishing point.

The new word in the vocabulary of our times is "deterrent." Aggressors are being deterred and war is being prevented without engaging in what is known as "preventive war."

All this means is that just as poison gas was not used in World War II, though used in World War I, so atomic bombs may not be used again, though they were used in the last war.

The necessity for secrecy on the military side prevents governments at the moment from discussing the weapons they do have available.

What is beginning to be disclosed little by little is an attitude of mind — a confidence in the power of deterrents already manufactured and in readiness for action.

War is being prevented today because no aggressor would dare risk an attack on the Western World. That, simply stated, is the most sensational news of the age.

Travel on the Increase

By MARK DANA

The Passport Division of the State Department sharpened its pencils the other day and computed that during 1954 an even 452,059 persons from all 48 States traveled abroad, chiefly in western Europe, although 49,736 voyagers went to Latin America, 14,244 went to Africa and 6,059 went to New Zealand.

Statistics are exceedingly boring, but to sweeten up some news values the State Department reveals that of the nearly half-million trippers abroad, the biggest group comprised housewives — 70,242 of them, who thus went to far lengths to get away from kitchens.

It can be as happily noted that 31,567 of the transoceanic travelers listed themselves as skilled laborers, and 23,023 were common laborers, they conceded — or perhaps boasted — and if they had more money in their wallets than some white collar ship and air passengers they assuredly had earned the right to spend it.

Delving further into the listed figures, one finds that 179,534 of the travelers explained they had urgent personal business abroad, and of course as the U.S. is still a democracy with no Communist or Gestapo priers into personal affairs (at least not for this sort of thing) it's anybody's guess what varieties of private business sent such a horde of men and women across the sea.

If any housewives want to make this more or less social register of ocean crossers during 1955, ships are still running and giant planes now hop to Europe between an early breakfast and tea-time.

Almost any experienced wife house or other kind, should be able to think up an excuse of private business in Paris or elsewhere convincing to a doting husband especially if he can think up some pressing private business in New York.

Jet Power Dictates Formosa Strategy

By James E. Roper

TAIPEI

Jet air power will decide the winner of any new fighting in the Formosa Strait.

This fact has plunged Nationalist China and Communist China into a race for aerial supremacy of this area.

The United States is aiding the Nationalists, but it's a close race. It could be a close war.

Already, the problems of air power have dictated strategy in the Formosa crisis. Military men here say that, aside from political considerations, the Tachen Islands were evacuated because they could not get land-based air cover.

The Tachens, 200 miles from Nationalist air bases, are only 100 miles from Communist airfields. Military authorities say this gave the Reds such an advantage that the Nationalists on the Tachens never could get enough air cover to hold the islands against a Red invasion. The same situation applied in the case of Nanchi island.

Now that the Nationalists have abandoned the Tachens and Nanchi, the Reds are trying to get aerial dominance over the new hot spots — the Quemoy and Matsu islands just off the China mainland opposite Formosa.

RIGHT NOW, the Nationalists have the advantage. They have airfields on Formosa only 60 to 100 miles from Quemoy and Matsu. The Reds have been left far behind.

During the Korean War, the Chinese Reds concentrated their air force in North China. Their principal air bases — the ones that threatened the Tachens — still are in the Ningpo area far to the north. They are 250 miles from Matsu and 400 miles from Quemoy, too far away to be effective.

There is every expectation, however, that the Reds soon will move their planes southward to Fukien Province just behind Matsu and Quemoy. They already have strengthened and lengthened runways on two fields in this area. Basing aircraft on those fields would give the Reds an even chance in the air war — except, perhaps, for the fuel problem.

The Reds don't have overland transportation to carry fuel to the fields. They need to move in fuel by sea.

This brings up the real strategic value of Quemoy and Matsu. These islands lie like stoppers in the mouths of important mainland ports. Nationalist gunners on the islands can harass if not stop tankers trying to enter the ports.

THE LONGER THE Nationalists hold Quemoy and Matsu, the harder it will be for the Reds to get sufficient fuel to put their Fukien airfields into operation.

Thus it is that the same Allied military planners who were willing to give up the Tachens now argue that the Nationalists and the United States should try to hold Quemoy and Matsu as long as the political climate remains so tense.

If a properly fueled Red air fleet gets any kind of break in the air over Quemoy, it's hard to see how the Nationalists — even with the help of the United States — could defend the island for long against a determined Red assault.

On Quemoy and its satellite isles are about 40,000 Nationalist troops. But junks carrying Red troops could get from the mainland to Quemoy in 30 minutes. The Reds troopers could be dropped.

Air power — mostly land based — would have to save the day for the Nationalists. The U.S. 7th Fleet couldn't help much. Warships could hardly venture into the area until the Reds were shot out of the skies. And the carrier-based American planes would have a hard time fighting MIG's in equal numbers. Land-based planes traditionally have an edge over carrier planes.

THE UNITED STATES is trying to increase the Nationalists' number of land-based aircraft ready to fight the Reds. It is giving them 200 F-86 Sabrejets which the Chinese should get in operation within a few months. The U.S. also is keeping a wing of American-manned Sabrejets — about 60 planes — stationed on Formosa.

The 7th Fleet could put between 300 and 400 planes over this area on a few days' notice.

The Chinese Communists, however, are acknowledged to have more aircraft than the Allies do in this area. The Allies' principal immediate goal, therefore, is to keep the Reds from occupying the Fukien airfields that would allow the Communist craft to fight effectively.

Bonn's 'Super Father'

By OMER ANDERSON

BONN

"It is your task to tell my wife she has to quit smoking," a henpecked husband wrote Franz Josef Wuermeling, the Bonn government's minister for family affairs.

An angry wife commanded Wuermeling: "My husband left me. Please see to it that he returns."

Wuermeling's ministry is not a year and a half old, but it has become, in this short time, a sort of "super father" to all German families.

Its task is to stabilize German family life and boost the birth rate. It is doing just that by offering the fanciest array of family welfare projects this side of Moscow.

Hitler would be envious. Chancellor Adenauer, no less than Hitler, is worried over the German birth rate. The Chancellor cites statistics proving that the German birth rate is at a dangerous ebb.

Catholic Adenauer's answer to this problem was the Family Ministry.

A devout Catholic, father of a large family, and close friend of Adenauer, Wuermeling is making history in his unique post.

The ministry's goals include increasing the attractiveness of marriage for bachelors and spinsters, checking the mounting national divorce rate, and encouraging small families to have more babies.

Ranging from lovelorn to henpecked, hundreds of citizens are sending letters to Bonn about their personal troubles since Adenauer created the Family Ministry.

The letters bear such addresses as "Minister for the creation of families" and "Minister for protection of the family" but all finally get to Wuermeling.

Adenauer's government disclaims any intention of imposing Nazilike controls over German family life.

For instance, the ministry strives to lessen the tax burden of families. It organizes so-called "equalization" accounts for the payment of subsidies to families with children. It furthers the kind of housing construction which is suitable for families of all sizes.

The ministry also grants so-called marriage loans, establishes a special family tariff of fares on all public transportation, and plans measures for aiding mothers, domestic help and nurses.

The ministry may also concern itself with the reform of the legal status of the family and its members — a reform which has long been in evolution.

This latter task is still a topic of heated debate, since one point of view claims that the ministry would thereby be overstepping its competence. The federal government made clear what is expected of the new ministry when it requested the minister of family affairs to draw up a program of "family policy."

Despite the crises and vicissitudes of recent years, the German family has remained a stable institution demonstrating that it is able to continue its existence almost independently of the "state" as the primary group of society —to quote the sociologists.

But, contends the Adenauer government: "It does not follow, however, that the best government policy would be to ignore the family in legislation and administration.

"For the very reason that the family as an institution has proved to be a more permanent and durable factor of society than almost any other, it should be in the interest of any government to foster it.

"On the other hand, government interference in matters that — according to Western standards — are purely private and not the concern of the state would be equally mistaken.

"The very core of the family as a source of strength for the community is the fact that it exists in a sphere of intimacy and seclusion, which must stay intact if it is to remain the pillar of society that it is and has been."

Marion County History Brevities

By EDNA S. DUTTON

Richard Horn, publisher of a German newspaper, Deutsche Presse, was born in Leipsic, Saxony and came to this country in 1881. He received a fine education in the model schools of Germany and after graduating at the age of 16 years, learned the printer's trade.

He came to Marion in 1890 after engaging in the printing work in New York State and on the leading German papers in Cleveland, and on Aug. 21 that year, published the first copy of the Deutsche Presse. The publication for many years had the largest circulation of any German publication outside of the large cities in Ohio.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

'Certified Delivery'

Postmaster General Summerfield,

Dear Sir: Announcing the contemplation of a new postage stamp the "Certified Mail U.S. Postage," you say you will welcome comment from the public, and I can't wait. If this idea isn't giving a comedy slant to your mail service, I don't know what is. For a half dozen years the public has been waiting for a simple decision taking the joker out of the special delivery stamp system by restoring the requirement for a signature by the recipient, and hoping that under the new administration it would get it. But you fly high over special delivery and come out for still another stamp if a man wants to be sure his letter has ever been received by anybody anywhere!

This certified sticker costs 15 cents, in addition to regular postage, and falls between a registered letter and the special delivery mail. It doesn't get the special handling of registered mail. All it does is get a receipt, which it can't get with a special delivery stamp costing 5 cents more ! ! ! Brother, I am calling on Sgt. Joe Friday and some Dragnet music to clear up this mystery entitled "The Murder of the Special Delivery Stamp" or "The Great Certification Whodunit."

For generations a special delivery, which cost a thin dime, meant a signature at the other end. This was the very essence of its purpose, and when the Democrats rendered special delivery service almost null and void by cutting out the receipt and making it impossible to prove the letter had ever been mailed or received by anybody anywhere, the public was dazed. It put the special stamp in the class with the yolkless egg and the knobless door. The Washington explanation was that hesitating ten seconds for a signature (as had been done for 50 years), took too much time, even though the special stamp was jacked up from a dime to 20 cents! So I don't dig this certified stamp idea. If you can give a receipt for delivery of a letter that costs 15 cents, why can't you do it for a stamp that costs 20? Pardon my grogginess.

You say records of the delivery of the new certified letter will be kept six months and any customer can find out about a letter by accompanying his query with another 10 cents. That sounds like a dilly. I hope you don't look for any six-month delay in delivery. And do you mean a man who has already paid extra for a letter has to come through with more dough to find out what happened to it! (Quick, doc, the restoratives!;

This is no knock on the American postal service, which is the greatest on earth. There is no more reliable guy than the mailman and the Post Office worker. Mighty few letters are lost. All I am saying is that Washington has gummed up things by its mysterious rule on special deliveries, and that your Certified Delivery stamp is for the birds. And only for birds who are not in any hurry.

Really, Mr. Summerfield, you must be doing this just in fun. Since you ask for reactions, I suggest that you sell the whole idea to Red Skelton, George Gobel or some other comedian always in a search for loud laughter.

Yours in confusion,
Elmer.

TV is going through an era of mugging, the last resort of the true entertainer. We watched a so-called "spectacular" the other night in which you had to see the facial contortions to believe them. A comedienne of top fame set a high for mugging routines and a famed TV comedian put his main dependence on facial twitchings, a distorted mouth and physical infirmities for laughs.

A lunchroom sketch starring the commedienne was the messiest, most funless and completely uninspired act we have ever seen on stage or screen.

Do the sponsors ever watch these things, and if so do they feel no such pain as is felt, we believe, in the living rooms of TV fans everywhere?

Millions are being spent for wider highways when the real need of autoists is wider sidewalks.

There will be a world heavyweight bout between Marciano and Don Cockell of England. This would indicate that Marciano and his manager are for an end of fighting and wish to help world peace. . . . (This one could be billed as "the coexistence bout.")

Great To Play for Brown, Club Hears

Morrison Discusses Coach, Players In Talk Here

A glowing picture of Paul Brown and his championship gridders was painted verbally here Thursday by Fred (Curly) Morrison, Browns' fullback.

Morrison, former member of the Chicago Bears, was speaker at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Marion Kiwanis Club.

"He's a great coach and also a great man," Morrison, former backfield ace at Ohio State, said of the Cleveland mentor. "He's the only man to play football for," he added.

IN ANSWER TO a question why he considered Brown a "great" man, Morrison said it was due to his code for playing and living.

"Brown is a real taskmaster but after only one year under him, I really enjoy it. There's just one way to do things and that's Brown's way," Morrison reported, and added that "he'd be awfully tough to live with in a losing season."

The speaker praised the game of football and added he wouldn't want any part of his life changed. "I've been really fortunate in that I've played under some top flight coaches."

EXPLAINING the difference in college and professional grid action, Morrison called the pro game more detailed and individualized.

"It's fun. We love it and we're not there just to make a living," he told his listeners. The professionals take a strong pride in their work and thus come up with outstanding performances, he said.

In discussing the Cleveland squad, Morrison was high in his praise of Quarterback Otto Graham and said he believed Graham was sincere in his announced retirement.

"He may come back, though, if things don't shape up at training camp," he added. He described Graham as a great asset to the team.

"He is an inspiration to the whole club and instills confidence in the players. Knowing he's available helps hold the team together," the club was told.

—:—

MORRISON ALSO decribed George Ratterman, Graham's replacement as a top-flight signal caller. He pointed out that with Ratterman in the game Brown doesn't use his "messenger service," calling each play from the sideline. "It's a shame he hasn't played more," Morrison said in discussing Ratterman.

In a brief look toward next fall, Morrison said the No. 1 need of the Browns appeared to be a replacement for Linebacker Tom Catlin, who has been lost to military service.

A question from the audience asked Morrison for comment on recent reports of "dirty play" in the NFL ranks. "There are a couple of smart alecks in the league but they'll get theirs," he said, in explaining most of the rumors sprang from the rough, hard play necessary for success in pro grid action.

He referred to the Chicago Bears' "get 'em" play in which the entire Chicago team concentrated on the violator. He said the Brownies have no such play but did handle a similar situation during the first game last season against the Detroit Lions. "That guy caused absolutely no trouble during the championship game a week later," he concluded.

MORRISON concluded his address by defending Brown's messenger service. He pointed out the usual effectiveness of his calls.

"Graham was occasionally told to use his own judgement if the scene from the field appeared differently. But if Graham didn't use the right judgment, Brown was heard from," Morrison said.

The speaker was introduced by William Cowles, program chairman for the day. Edwin L. Mitchell, Kiwanis president, presided, and group singing was conducted by L. G. Jones.

John Head of the J. C. Penney Co. was introduced as a new member of the board of directors. He fills the position held by the late Carl S. Kay.

Guests at the luncheon included Hugh Leggett of London, Art Lee of Richmond, Va., Don Williamson, E. H. Walton, Joseph Whisler, William Rauch, Rev. L. Harrison Ludwig, Carl Knirk, Art Yarian, Edward Weaver and Paul Black, all of Marion.

OFF THE CUFF REMARKS. Edwin L. Mitchell (left) Kiwanis Club president, chats with Fred (Curly) Morrison (center) fullback for the Cleveland Browns, and William Cowles. The Brownie backfield star, spoke here yesterday before the weekly meeting of the Kiwanians. Cowles served as program chairman and arranged for Morrison's appearance.

48 Per Cent Mark Gives Bulldogs Convincing Edge

By JOHN SHORT

Prospect High School's Bulldogs moved into a quarterfinal berth in district tournament play last night at Otterbein College with a convincing 72-59 verdict over Atlanta, Pickaway County entry. The Marion County tourney champs will tackle Liberty-Union Saturday night at 8:30.

In the second game of last night's Westerville slate, Mount Gilead's defending district champions racked up an easy 70-53 win over Ashville, co-champs in the Pickaway County league and county tourney winner.

Coach Fred McCumber's charges appeared a little fuzzy at the start of the contest but snapped back to their regular classy form after the opening four minutes.

When the game was completed, the Bulldogs showed a brilliant 48 per cent shooting average from the field. They connected on 28 of 58 attempts and hit their peak in the final quarter when seven of nine attempts found the mark for a blistering 76 per cent. During the opening period, the county entry hit on six of 15 for 40 per cent, in the second it finished with 60 per cent on six connections in 10 attempts and potted nine of 24 in the third stanza for a 37 per cent mark.

THE WINNERS moved out front 3-0 before Atlanta scored and were never headed. Bruce Emery, George Moser and Bob Rodgers led the scoring as the Bulldogs moved into a 13-11 lead at the end of the opening period. Roger Remlinger and Roger Landon, top floormen for the Bulldogs, were content to let the big guns handle the scoring and turned in outstanding performances in getting the ball downfloor and into scoring position against a close-guarding foe.

Late in the second stanza, Prospect moved into a healthy nine-point bulge, 26-17 when Emery hit on a set shot but Wendell Hott shoved in three quick points and Harvey Jordan added two for the losers to cut their halftime deficit to 26-22.

At the start of the third quarter, Hott stole the ball at mid-court and raced in for a score to cut the Bulldogs' lead to 26-24 but Remlinger, Rodgers and Emery turned on the pressure and with 3:50 still to go Prospect held a 36-25 edge. Before the period ended, Rodgers had slammed in eight more points and at the start of the final quarter, the winners held a comfortable 48-37 lead.

With 5:10 remaining in the game, Atlanta made its last bid to overtake the Bulldogs. Led by Harold Gerhardt and Dick Carter, the losers reduced the Prospect margin to 60-54 before the Bulldogs turned the game into a complete rout in the final three minutes. Twelve straight points for McCumber's charges sealed the win in a two-minute stretch.

RODGERS FINISHED his first district tournament appearance with 29 points. Bob Emery lent top support with a 24-point production and Moser finished with 10. Hott was tops for the losers with

Y Swim Team In Final Home Meet Saturday

The Marion YMCA tank team will close its home season Saturday against a strong Fremont High School team at 2:30 p.m.

The Fremont team is annually one of the strongest in state high school ranks but was outclassed this year by undefeated Sandusky, University School and Canton McKinley. The Fremont team holds one win over the Toledo Y squad that defeated Marion 41-33 last Saturday. Fremont beat Toledo by a 39-36 margin.

The meet will mark the last appearance for five Marion team members; Stan Franks and Bob Patterson, freestylers; diver Dick Renn; Bill Barnes and Don Blashinsky, a breatstroker and backstroker respectively. Franks is one of the teams leading scorers and holds the team record in the 50 yard freestyle of :26.5 seconds, equal to the present pool record. Patterson also has timings at 26.6 seconds and both are members of the fast Marion freestyle relay team that has lost only three times.

Still on the Marion schedule are the Glass City Invitational Meet at Toledo on March 19 and the Ohio-W. Va. Area swimming championships at Ohio State the next weekend.

The team tentatively has a meet scheduled with Massillon on April 2 as a reschedule of a meet cancelled Feb. 5 when the Massillon pool was undergoing modernization. The Prep team will compete in the area Postal meet in the local pool on Friday, March 11 at 5:15 p.m. and close with the Toledo meet.

Tribe Spirit Not Hurt by Series Loss

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—The crushing World Series defeat the Cleveland Indians absorbed last fall doesn't seem to have hurt the team's spirit, says Manager Al Lopez.

"There wasn't a player of the team who didn't feel that if the Series had been played all over a week later, we might have won four straight," the senor said.

"If anything the team seems more anxious than ever to win the pennant. I suppoe they want to redeem themselves."

"People who think our spirit was destroyed because we lost the series forget that we won the pennant after finishing second three years in a row," Lopez went on. "If that didn't wreck our spirit, nothing will."

Lopez, who is starting his fifth year as Tribe pilot, said it upset him when, during newsreel shots of the series, "people laughed and hissed."

The Indians are shaping up so rapidly that Lopez plans intersquad games for Saturday and Sunday. He thinks the pitchers are ready, and noted that "Bob Lemon, for example, hadn't thrown all winter, but he's cutting loose already and wants to pitch in the first game Saturday.

In batting practice yesterday, Ralph Kiner, the Indians' newly acquired left fielder, poked a number over the high left field wall, and young Earl Averill, catcher-son of a onetime great Indian outfielder, also showed batting punch. Kiner also has been working hard on his fielding and throwing.

Five Tribesmen still are holdouts—Early Wyn, Bob Avila, Bill Wright, Dave Philly and Wally Westlake. Rookie catcher Hank Foiles has agreed to terms by long distance telephone and is on his way by train from Norfolk, Va.

Dayton Sinks Seton Hall 85-67 In Warmup for NIT Cage Play

By The Associated Press

Dayton's Flyers, seeded No. 2 in the National Invitation basketball tournament, drubbed Seton Hall, also NIT-bound, 85-67, last night in the top game of the Ohio college schedule.

After a sluggish first half, the Flyers took control of the game, with senior Jack Sallee leading the way with 28 points.

The Flyers set their regular season record at 23 victories in 26 starts, while the easterners now have a 17-8 record.

Elsewhere in Ohio, the Bobcats of Ohio University rallied in the last three minutes of a seesaw game to get past Marietta, 93-90, in the last season contest for both. The score was tied a dozen times.

OU's season record is 16-5; Marietta finished with 21-4.

Lou Mitchell dropped in 28 points, leading Denison's Big Red to a tight 92-90 win over Kenyon that closed the season for both. Denison created a small lead early in the game and kept it to the final whistle.

Heidelberg closed its season with a runaway 83-51 triumph at Wittenberg's expense in an Ohio Conference game. Bill Groman netted 15 points for the winners.

Playing under National Basketball Assn. rules, Akron's Goodyear Wingfoots trounced the College of Youngstown, 88-60. The loser's Tony Knott was high scorer in the game with 22 points.

CONTRACT CAPERS

DETROIT (AP) — Pitcher Steve Gromek says he and the Detroit Tigers didn't see eye to eye on his 1955 contract. "I told them I won 18 games last year," Gromek mused. "You know what they told me "You lost 16 games." A few days later Steve could be seen with a big grin waving his newly signed contract.

State Senators Serious Over Relief Investigation

By ART PARKS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Don t pooh-pooh the state Senate's investigation of Ohio's relief program It is no idle gesture

It could wind up with some political overtones but right now it hasn't any Republican Senate Majority Leader C Stanley Mecham s insistence on the investigation into skyrocketing relief costs has the solid backing of the five-term Democratic Gov Frank J Lausche

Probes To Start Wednesday

The Senate Finance Committee under the command of Chairman Tom V Moorehead Zanesville Republican will get under way Wednesday in its investigation of the jump in the state s share of the relief load from 17 million dollars in the last two years to 31½ millions in the next two

Mechem and Moorehead say they are in dead earnest that the Senate will conduct a hard-hitting to-the-point investigation to determine if there is laxity on the part of state or local relief officials in permitting relief payments to creep upward to what they call an "alarming level" Investigators will get right down to actual relief cases

Faced with demands for many more millions than the state has available to spend the 14½ millions additional asked for poor relief is a serious matter to legislators

Said Mecham Wednesday in a conference with the Senate Finance group in arranging the investigation

'No one in the Legislature wants to deny aid to those who are worthy and in need

'If local relief administrations are at fault we want to know it The Legislature has the right to know if the money it appropriates is being spent properly

If our investigation shows the increased relief spending is justified then of course we will vote the money

"But if it shows laxity on the state or local levels, then the appropriation should be cut'

Will Concentrate on Cities

The big-city counties likely will get the most attention from the Senate investigators aided by staff members of the Legislative Service Commission—the Legislature s own set of treasury watchdogs But all 88 counties will get a once over from the probers as they seek information to help them compare per capita costs in rural and urban counties

Senate leaders say they have reports there has been some politics in the awarding of relief These too will be checked

But the whole investigation whether it shows laxity or politics or both or neither, may have a surprising result

It could be the first step toward a move toward a combined relief establishment—an idea fostered by many legislators who feel all such programs could be adminstered more efficiently with less overlapping of effort

Why, they ask could not a combined office handle all cases of aid to the blind aid to dependent children aid to the aged and aid to the crippled and handicapped'

The Senate s coming investigation could provide some of the answers

Bible Words for Today

I CORINTHIANS 16 2—"On the first day of every week, each of you is to put something aside and store it up, as he may prosper..."

* \ * *

The honest seeker after a New Testament pattern of Christian stewardship (not a hold-over from Jewish antiquity) finds in this verse a fair and equitable procedure. It is personal, proportionate and provident. The expression "each of you", omits no one. It includes all communicants and interested individuals. It is fair to indicate that even the child in the family circle should be encouraged to make his personal gift. The expression "as he may prosper" makes giving flexible and relative to a variable income. We know of adults still giving to Sunday School the same nickel they gave as children. A fixed habit prevents development The expression "the first day of every week" conveys the "provident" suggestion—providing for the on-going needs of the serving organization.

God, who created and sustains an ordered universe has not left His organization, the Church, to muddle along with catch-as-catch-can methods of underwriting its needs.

Blind and Deaf Couple Intends To Keep Child

Parents Certain They Can Manage, Will Try To Convince the Judge

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Armed with trust in God and support from their neighbors, a blind and deaf couple try Monday to convince a Juvenile Court judge that, in spite of their handicap, they should be allowed to rear their normal 11-day-old son.

"What is best for the baby is our only concern," said the head of the Summit County Welfare Department, which left a note for Harold Hathaway, 53, and his wife Georgia, 32, suggesting their baby, Clarence, be placed in a foster home.

'Can't Take Baby'

A neighbor spelled the note's message into Hathaway's palm earlier this week at the neat bungalow the couple bought in nearby Stow after their marriage in Topeka, Kan., a little more than a year ago.

"They can't take my baby away from me," said Mrs. Hathaway. "Clarence is the only thing I ever had of my own in my whole life."

A tiny woman of only 5 feet 2, Mrs. Hathaway was born in South Dakota and grew up as an orphan. She became acquainted with her husband through a Braille correspondence.

Her doctor says she has a heart condition and ought not to be separated from her infant.

"We are trusting in God, and we believe he won't fail us," said Hathaway, a former furniture repairman who became blind a few years ago. His only income now is his pension.

Don't Need Help

"We own our own furniture," he said. "Our home is paid for. We are immensely happy. We have paid our hospital and doctor bills of $169. We don't need any help.

"Sure my wife is blind, but she can cook and care for a baby as well as anyone. We do all our own housework and cooking, and do not want to bother anyone."

Thirty neighbors already have petitioned that the Hathaways "be given a fair chance to prove they can be good parents."

"A visiting nurse has been coming daily to give the baby his bath," one said. "We feel it would be worth having someone still come in a few hours each day in order to preserve the happiness of these two people who have had so many setbacks."

GALION MAN FINED

GALION — For using profanity on the street Wednesday at 9:30 p.m., Homer S. Kleinknecht, 49, of Galion, was fined $5 and costs when he appeared before Mayor Francis C. Schalip this week. The fine was suspended, but costs of $8.70 were paid by the defendant. The charge against Kleinknecht was disorderly conduct in using profanity.

4 Associates Of Safecracker Sent to Prison

CARROLLTON, Ohio (AP) — Four men identified by Cleveland police as one-time associates of safecracker Julius Petro received prison sentences for burglary here yesterday and three other alleged members of the gang were arrested in Knoxville, Tenn.

Given one-to-15 year terms in the Ohio Penitentiary were:

Anthony Dalessio, 31; Philip Aliberti, 26; Mike Antonelli, 22, and Peter Guzzo, 24, all of Cleveland.

Antonelli and Guzzo pleaded guilty to the Jan. 15 burglary of the Mills jewelry store here. The other men were convicted on the same charge. Common Pleas Judge Frank F. Cope passed sentence.

Police said the four, caught rifling the store by Police Chief Hal A. Tasker, made it to a getaway car, and drove away but the car got bogged down in a muddy field.

A posse of 30 law enforcement officers gave chase and tracked them through footprints left in the snow. Three were immediately captured and Antonelli was later found 18 miles away.

In Knoxville, charged with possessing burglary tools, were Anthony J. Valletto, 40, and Joseph Drago, 30, of Cleveland, and Joseph Newman, 42, of Akron. They were held at city jail under $50,000 bond each.

Knoxville detectives said the three were arrested at a local hotel after an anonymous tip.

Found in their car were a quantity of burglary tools and acetylene torches, police said.

Petro, described by police as the leader of a safe gang in Collinwood, a Cleveland east side district is serving a federal term for bank robbery.

Big Housing Program Set in Cleveland Area

CLEVELAND (AP)—Plans for a 25-million-dollar development to include 1,500 homes and a two-million-dollar shopping center in suburban Avon were announced last night by David Kirschenbaum, head of Eaton General Contractors, the owner and developer.

He said constructionh would begin immediately on a 1,000-acre site in the Lorain County community. About 500 of the houses are scheduled for completion by the year's end.

Homes in the new project, to be called the New Northgate Development, will range in price from $15,950 to $16,250. All of contemporary ranch-style, they will be built of three bedrooms and a full basement.

Marion Group Cited for Fire Safety Drives

State recognition has come to Marion for the second annual year for educational activities conducted during Fire Prevention Week.

Announcement of the honorable mention award given to Marion by the National Fire Prevention Association was made by Fire Chief O. A. Sifritt at a regular meeting of the fire prevention committee of the Marion Chamber of Commerce Thursday afternoon.

The certificate of merit award given to Marion was one of six given in the state by the national association. First, second and third place honors went to Cincinnati, Dayton and Van Wert, with the honorable mentions going to Columbus, Mingo Junction and Marion.

Marion firemen and the Chamber committee joined forces last October to observe National Fire Prevention Week. Firemen made inspections of business and manufacturing concerns, and other public events, including a parade were staged. Rex Kilbourn is chairman of the Chamber's fire prevention committee.

At Thursday's meeting the committee started plans for the annual Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up Campaign to be held April 17-23. Complete plans will be developed and announced soon.

The fire deparement will inspect industrial and downtown business buildings during the Clean-Up Week. Firemen will also make inspections in residential areas upon request.

John Smith and Robert S. Kraner were named publicity chairmen for the Clean-Up campaign.

The fire prevention committee is preparing a scrapbook to be entered in the U. S. Chamber of Commerce Fire Waste contest. In previous years, the local scrapbook has won honorable mention awards.

Peace Justices Fight Sandusky Court Proposal

House Hearing Held On Plan to Centralize Authority at Fremont

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Accusations and denials flew Wednesday at a House Judiciary Committee hearing on a proposal to create a municipal court in Fremont with jurisdiction over most of Sandusky County.

Henry G. Stahl of the county bar assn. and Chamber of Commerce testified that Justice of the Peace Virgil Swartzlander specialized in state highway patrol cases.

Rep. Kenneth A. Robinson (R-Marion), committee chairman, called on Swartzlander to answer questions. The peace justice said others could do it better but Robinson said that was why the official had been invited to the hearing. Questioning elicited this information:

Stahl said:

"If the justice of the peace does not give the verdict the highway patrol says, they don't return."

"That's not true," Swartzlander called from his seat in the hearing room.

"I say it is," Stahl insisted. "The same thing is true with wildlife cases.

"It has gotten so that no one can be found not guilty in Sandusky County," Stahl continued.

Stahl said Swartzlander, a peace justice for about five years, turned over more than $20,000 to his township from fines imposed in his court.

Swartzlander handled more than 3,000 cases in four years and dismissed only 27 of them. He assessed more than $14,000 in costs alone, averaging $4.07 a case. Saying 99 per cent of his cases involved truck overloading, the peace justice said he could not recall finding any innocent

7 JPs Would Lose Jobs

Creation of a Fremont municipal court would put Sandusky County's seven peace justices out of business. The magistrates keep costs assessed in convictions in their courts. Part of the fines to go to their townships and the rest is distributed to governmental subdivisions.

Municipal court judges receive salaries. Money from fines and costs of cases they handle is distributed to sub-divisions, a committee member explained.

But said Alexander L. Hyzer, former county prosecutor, "you can't run a system of justice on the basis of how much money you'll get. When people understand the benefits, they will not be against a municipal court despite loss of revenue to villages."

Back Court Proposal

Proponents of the court proposal besides Stahl and Hyzer included Paul Busick, county bar association president; Clarence Homan, former village solicitor of Clyde; Bernard Hawk, former Fremont city solicitor, and Leo Kenny of the county bar association and Chamber of Commerce.

Opponents included Leroy C. Roush, county engineer; Mayor Herbert Busdicker of Woodville, Mayor Tom Pask of Clyde, Solicitor Bruce C. Huffman of Clyde and Dwight Wise, farmer of near Fremont and unsuccessful Democratic candidate for state representative.

The committee decided to give the court bill, sponsored by Rep. Elton Lahr (R-Sandusky), further consideration.

Rotary International Director Speaks at Area Club Celebration

GALION — Rotary clubs of Bucyrus, Cardington, Galion and Shelby joined Thursday night in commemoration of Rotary International's 50th year with a golden anniversary celebration at the Greenlawn, east of Bucyrus. There were 142 Rotarians present.

Program features were the showing of Rotary's anniversary movie, "The Great Adventurer," and an address by Robert A. Manchester of Youngstown, a director of Rotary International.

Special guests present were Edward J. Burger, governor of the 227th district; past governors Tom Bartlett of North Baltimore, Henry A. Mickley of Marion, Roland L. White of Toledo; Odell Thompson, president of the Marion club, Hal Stepleton, president of the Sylvania club and Robert Jones of the Youngstown club.

Blicke Is Chairman

William A. Blicke of Bucyrus was honorary chairman. Rev. Paul D. Walter of Galion was toastmaster. The songleader was Rev. Glenn L. Lockhard of Bucyrus. Pianist was Edwin A. Norton, Bucyrus, and invocation was given by Rev. Knox Roberts, Bucyrus.

Rev. Walter introduced the following presidents and vice presidents: Franklin J. Roelle and Leland C. Wertz of the Bucyrus club; William C. Johnstone and Newt Fate of the Cardington club; Harold L. McKay and Russell A. Gibson of the Galion club; and Arlo G. Willet and Dudley H. Seltzer of the Shelby club.

Henry A. Mickley, who was district golden anniversary chairman, extended a welcome and introduced the speaker, Robert A. Manchester.

The speaker brought greetings from Rotary International's president, Herbert J. Taylor, from the board of directors of Rotary International and from Rotary clubs all over the world.

"Rotary has something to say about religion," the speaker said, "because in the Rotary International convention of 1943, a resolution was passed urging all Rotarians to take an active interest in the religion of their choice and to work for the church of their choice."

Speaker Points Out Bond

There is a bond of common interest between Rotarians of different nationalities and languages, the speaker pointed out. He said that he believes Rotary has a place in the master plan of the universe and, therefore, it entails a responsibility on the part of all Rotarians to promote good will, understanding, and peace among all peoples.

Manchester gave the three objectives outlined by Herbert J. Taylor, president of Rotary International, for this Rotary anniversary year: a 10 per cent increase in membership; putting into active use the four-way test; and endeavoring to meet the 10 standards of good citizenship which Taylor has set up.

In closing the speaker quoted the words of Dr. Switzer, "The greatest happiness comes only from service."

Harold McKay, president of the Galion club, announced that the roses given to every member of the Galion club were from the Rotary Anns and also the visitor's registration which was unwrapped at the meeting. These were expressions of appreciation from the ladies for the many good times they have been given at ladies' night meetings.

eralized trade program in America."

To meet the problem of distressed industries, Carey urged passage of a trade adjustment bill as a companion to the House-passed measure to extend the reciprocal trade agreements law three years.

Bill Sets Up Aids

The trade adjustment bill, already introduced by Senators Humphrey (D-Minn) and Kennedy (D-Mass), would set up various aids which the President could use to help communities harmed by imports.

These would include supplementary jobless benefits, earlier social security retirement, job retraining, and transportation to new area for workers; loans, research information and tax benefits for industries; and loans and technical information for communities.

The House bill which Carey endorsed would give Eisenhower new power to lower duties 5 per cent in each year of the three-year extension of the trade pact law.

New Navy Recruiter Set To Visit Towns in Area

The new Navy recruiter, chief Boatswain's Mate Raymond Romanowski, this morning announced his schedule for visiting surrounding areas in this district.

In his visits to the neighboring cities, Romanowski will have his headquarters located at the post-office in each town.

Judge Approves Directed Verdict In Hearing Here

A Common Pleas Court jury Thursday returned a directed verdict in favor of Mrs. Lena Southward of 428 Park Blvd. Mrs. Southward was the defendant in a suit brought by the Marion Window Insulation, Roofing and Siding, Inc. of 127 S. High St.

The company had alleged Mrs. Southward had cosigned a cognovit note with her husband Harley R. Southward. Mrs. Southward denied the allegation. After the firm had presented its side of the case, defense attorneys made a motion asing for a directed verdict in favor of the defendant.

Judge Paul D. Smith upheld the motion. The company then filed a new suit against Mr. and Mrs. Southward and the Home Federal Savings and Loan Association asing that a transfer of property from Mr. Southward to Mrs. Southward be set aside. They allege the transfer was made by Southward to avoid paying the note. Home Federal Savings and Loan Association holds a mortgage on the property, according to the new petition.

Moore and Myers represented the defendant, while Ralph E. Carhart represented the insulation company.

Annual Conference Planned for Pupils

Representatives of labor and civic groups met with school authorities at the school administration office on S. Prospect St. Thursday evening to plan for obtaining consultants for the vocational conference to be held March 30.

The conference will be held for all students in grades nine through 12 to give them information and background on professions open to them after graduation.

Students from the city schools and St. Mary School will participate in the program. At the meeting last night, each of the groups was assigned to obtain certain consultants in the various fields.

Present were representatives from the Lions Club, A.F. of L., C.I.O., Junior Chamber of Commerce, Junior Service Guild, Rotary, Business and Professional Women, Kiwanis, Altrusa, Professional Engineers, Y Men's Club, 20-30 Club, and the Exchange Club.

Robert S. Brown, superintendent of city schools, this morning estimated that about 2,100 school children would take part in the conference day. There are about 50 different vocational fields which will be represented at the conference.

Social Note

NEW YORK (UP)—Blessing to the society leader, and the society page editor: An amateur's guide to writing announcements of coming social events.

The guide, written by Lucy Rosser, member of an old Southern family, gives instructions on notifying newspapers about engagements, parties, weddings, showers and christenings.

Emily Post wrote the foreword for the book, called "Happy the Bride the Press Shines On."

The man who gets through the winter without a heavy overcoat is increasingly prevalent, but it's hard to tell what to blame him on—milder weather or heaters in motorcars.

Movie Spokesman Says Films Do Not Cause Delinquency

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The executive secretary of the Independent Theater Owners of Ohio says there is no correlation between the movies and juvenile delinquency.

Robert A. Wile, the secretary, in a statement issued today referred to a recent report by Robert M. Eyman, state education director, on 12 years of movie censorship. In the report Eyman charged some cases of delinquency w directly attributable to ideas received from motion pictures.

Said Wile: "Juveniles who are caught in crime and seek an easy excuse will sometimes say, 'I saw it in the movies.' This is manifestly untrue because every motion picture shows that no crime goes unpunished. This is one of the tenets of the motion picture code."

Wile said that while movie censorship had been in effect in Ohio for many years until last December, juvenile delinquency in this state is worse than the national average.

"We of the motion picture industry believe that these figures (on juvenile delinquency) are appalling," said Wile, "but we emphatically disclaim any responsibility whatsoever for juvenile delinquency or its rate of increase."

He said in the three months since censorship lapsed in Ohio, theaters have not abused their freedom. He added that more than 99 per cent of them have exhibited only pictures carrying the production code seal.

Traffic Cases In City Court

Five drivers were assessed a total of $90 and costs on traffic charges in Marion Municipal Court Thursday.

One driver forfeited a $35 bond when he failed to show up for a hearing on a speeding charge. He was J. W. Stephen, 27, of near Marion.

Each of the other drivers was fined $15 and costs. They were: Dan Metz, 19, of Birmingham, Ala., speeding; J. C. Fairchild, 27, of Cincinnati, no driver's license; Kelly McClanahan, 44, of Ypsilanti, Mich., failure to register a motor vehicle, fine and costs suspended, and Wellington Slack, 36, of near Edison, insufficient brakes and no muffler.

District Traffic Cases

Three persons were arrested Thursday outside of Marion County by state highway patrolmen from the Marion post.

Lewis M. Gaisley, 66, of Cleveland, was fined $10 and costs when he appeared before Mayor Don Healea of Cardington on a charge of passing over a yellow line.

Robert A. Costa, 22, of Wadsworth, was cited to appear today before Mayor Emery Murphy of Mount Gilead on a charge of passing over a yellow line.

Don Farinacci, 49, of near Cardington, was given a citation to appear before Mayor Don Healea of Cardington on March 19 on a charge of excessive speed.

Radiation

nessing atomic engery.

Aside from these atomic installations, more and more industries are making use of radioactive isotopes. So are hospitals and universities. All these contribute to the total radioactivity of the state's air and water.

"By measuring radioactivity now, we hope to get some basic figures on comparatively normal conditions," explains H. G. Bourne Jr., chief engineer of the division of industrial hygiene in the state health department. Present measurements could be a yardstick for the future.

For instance, if there turns out to be twice as much radioactivity in 1960 as there is today, scientists will know they've got a real problem on their hands.

If readings stay at the same level, there'll be more confidence in the atomic age.

At the four test cities samples of air are drawn through a small cylinder with electrically charged walls. Dust particles collect on the walls. About 350 cubic feet of air will yield enough dust to be measured for radioactivity by an extremely sensitive instrument that works like a geiger counter.

Bourne says there's a bit of natural radioactivity in the air, and that the natural level just about doubles on days following the atomic tests in Nevada. Still, it is far too low to be dangerous.

These tests thus far of the water sources also have been encouraging, says F. H. Waring, head of the division of sanitary engineering. "We can't even find significant differences in river water above the atomic plants and in the water downstream from them," he says.

He attributes this good showing to AEC's care in monitoring the waste products it dumps. All privately - operated atomic installations use AEC equipment, he explains.

"Our job is to see that private installations, once they become common, also put up every safeguard to keep from polluting the air and water," Waring says. "But as of today, the radioactivity has barely been enough to measure."

BOSTON TEA PARTY SITE WHARF BURNS. Two fireboats (right) help finish up battle against a fire that swept through historic India Wharf at Boston, Mass. Many old wooden buildings were consumed, but brick and marble warehouse (right center) escaped. Structure was designed by Charles Bulfinch, famous early Boston architect. Man Confesses Forging of Checks At Marion Stores

A 22-year-old Oklahoma man and his teen-age wife arrested in Sarasota, Fla., on charges of passing bad checks has admitted passing three phoney checks in Marion earlier this year.

Police Chief Thomas B. Coon said today that Sarasota police reported that Thomas E. Maddox of Elk City, Okla., has admitted that he and his wife passed checks here at the Montogmery and Ward Store; Murphy's and F. W. Woolworth store. All the checks passed here were for $10 or $15, Coon said.

Information from the Florida police was that the youth also admitted passing bad checks in a number of other cities, in Ohio and elsewhere.

Teachers

The board announced last night it "unanimously found it necessary to dismiss Dr. Beard . . . on account of Dr. Beard's repeated failure to cooperate with the board on important policy matters: administrative, financial and operative."

Board members said they are "ready with a list of bonafide charges which they will present at a hearing before the state commissioner of education."

William S. Ward, teachers' spokesman, said they walked out "because of the intolerable conditions brought on them as personnel by the inefficient and faulty administrative procedures . . ." He said this did not reflect on Beard.

Ward said school personnel were "operating under tension, emotional instability, physical and mental exhaustion" and had no intention of condoning "continued intimidation, personal and citizenship rights violated, and professional status lowered . . ."

Young said he considered the absent teachers "fine, upstanding people."

"It is inconceivable to me why they walked out," he declared.

Teachers were notified if they didn't return yesterday they would be replaced. But Young added that if any who missed the deadline return later they will be "rehired on their own merits."

Acting School Supt. Charles Langston said 93 of 209 teachers, all 26 lunchroom employes and about 20 custodial and transportation workers were out yesterday.

Ward's figures were higher. He said 127 teachers, 42 lunchroom workers and 34 maintenance and transportation workers were out in the seven schools.

Arm Broken in Fall

A 34-year-old Marion man was treated at the Marion General Hospital emergency room for a broken right arm Thursday night.

Robert Sims of 1218 S. Prospect St. told police he broke his arm when he slipped and fell on a ramp leading into the rear door of the Val-Mar Grill at 255 W. Center St. about 11:46 p.m. He said he had just come from bowling, police said. He was released from General Hospital after treatment for the injury.

CORN LAND DESIRED

LINCOLN, Neb. (UP)—Interest in the buying of farm land picked up in most of the northern cornbelt states during 1954 because of income. The U. S. Department of Agriculture said the farm market was not really active "but the better farms found ready buyers."

NO SNOW

SALISBURY, Conn. (UP)—Some of the longest jumps on record for the Connecticut state championship ski competition were made this year — without the aid of snow. The skiers got up speed on a base of 100 tons of finely ground ice which had been blown onto the hill shortly before the matches began.

Harlan

seized on by some Southerners on the Judiciary Committee who wanted to avoid raising the school segregation issue. This the Southern senators denied.

Harlan is the grandson and namesake of a Supreme Court justice who wrote a vigorous dissent in an 1896 decision upholding the doctrine of separate but equal facilities for the races.

That doctrine, first applied to transportation, also affected schools until last year when the Supreme Court unanimously outlawed racial segregation in the public schools.

In the Judiciary Committee's hearings on the nomination, concluded a week ago, Sen. Eastland (D-Miss) asked Harlan if he thought the Supreme Court should change established interpretations of the Constitution in accordance with the economic, political or sociological views of judges on the court.

With a smile, and taking off his spectacles, Harlan answered: "To lay that question bare, you are asking me how I would have voted on the segregation case if I had been a member of the court?"

Eastland insisted he was just asking a general question and dropped the subject.

The court has been without its full membership since the death of Justice Robert H. Jackson last October and, while waiting for the vacancy to be filled, has postponed arguments on how and when its ruling in the school segregation case is to be put into effect.

Confirmed Last Year

Harlan had been confirmed by the Senate—in February 1954—for his present job as a judge of the 2nd U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New York when Eisenhower decided to elevate him to the Supreme Court. Spokesmen for the American Bar Assn. and the New York State Bar Assn. hailed the appointment.

A member of a prominent law firm in New York City, Harlan had wide experience as a trial lawyer before he went on the bench. He also had been counsel for the New York State Crime Commission.

Woman Grocer 'Retires' After 58 Years in Store

PALESTINE, Tex. (UP) — Mrs. J. B. McDonald who has managed a general store in nearby Neches for 58 years has decided to slow down.

Mrs. McDonald isn't actually quitting; she just thinks she's entitled to do a little less work. Her son, Brice, in his 50's, will take over active management.

Residents of Neches and farmers in the area have traded with Mrs. McDonald since 1897. She has lived in the community even longer—since 1890.

In her early days, she also operated a hotel to bolster the family income. She and her husband reared three children and sent them to college. One became a doctor, one a storekeeper and the third a teacher.

Mrs. McDonald recalls that when she served meals, she charged the more prosperous looking "drummers" (traveling salesmen) 35 cents for a meal, 10 cents more than local residents paid.

Mrs. McDonald and her rocking chair are familiar to all who visit her store. But to prove she isn't getting old, she will dance a jig with the slightest encouragement.

2 Men Suffer Injuries From Traffic Mishap

Driver and Passenger Hurt When Auto Skids Off Morrow Highway

Two men sustained injuries in one of two accidents investigated in Morrow County Thursday by state highway patrolmen from the Marion post.

Robert R. Lehner, 25, of near Delaware, and a passenger in his car, Richard Eugene Lea, 24, of near Ashley, were injured when the car driven by Lehner skidded off the road and went into the ditch on the right side, breaking off a telephone pole.

This accident happened at 9:50 p.m. on Route 42, a little over a mile north of Cardington. Lehner told investigating patrolmen that he was southbound and had decided to pull off the road during the heavy rainstorm when the car went into the skid.

Lehner sustained lacerations about the head and a possible fractured nose. Lea sustained lacerations about the forehead. They were taken in an ambulance to the Morrow County Hospital in Mount Gilead where they were treated and released.

Heavy damage resulted to the hood, front end, windshield, frame and motor of the car. It was removed by a wrecker.

At 4:50 p.m. at about the same location, a tractor-trailer outfit and an automobile sideswiped on a curve. The southbound truck was driven by Edwin J. Moser, 33, of San Antonio, Tex., and the northbound automobile was driven by Betty Jean Kananen of Conneaut.

The woman told investigating patrolmen that she had passed another vehicle when her automobile sideswiped with the truck. Extensive damage resulted to the left front bumper, fender, wheel, running board and tire of the truck.

She was given a fine of $15 and costs on a charge of being left of center when she appeared before Mayor Don Healea of Cardington.

Her 2-year-old daughter, Judith Ann, received a skull fracture and was taken to Children's Hospital, Cincinnati, where she was in critical condition. Also seriously injured was Albert Reed Custis, about 82, Wilmington.

Public Servants

By George Sokolsky

The appointment of George C. McConnaughey as chairman of the Federal Communications Commission is being held up before the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce because he is experienced in the field. The question that is being raised is whether a citizen having gained practical experience by working in a particular industry over a prolonged period can function independently of his former associations in a government post.

SOKOLSKY

If the government cannot dip into private enterprise for competent men, it must limit itself to the clerk type of mind or to lawyers who prefer the security of government jobs to the risks of private practice.

-:-

IT IS A SERIOUS problem for our government and one with which the Hoover Commission deals in its report on personnel. How is our government to get men of managerial experience to take positions in the administration if it is to be held against them that they have had an experience elsewhere than in the federal government?

For instance, Sen. John Bricker, when he was governor of the state of Ohio, appointed George McConnaughey as chairman of the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio. Subsequently McConnaughey was retained by a number of telephone companies in Ohio. The main objection to his appointment to the FCC post are these associations. The following colloquy is to the point:

"Sen. Pastore—Now, how did you come to be engaged by the telephone company in representing them before the commission on a utility rate increase?

"Mr. McConnaughey — I think they employed me because apparently they thought I had some ability. I know that must be true. I wouldn't have been employed otherwise."

-:-

IT WAS BROUGHT OUT in the hearings on McConnaughey's confirmation that telephone companies had retained him after he ceased to be chairman of the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio and that therefore he ought not now to be head of the FCC. If this argument holds for him and others, the government is precluded from recruiting able and experienced men to serve in public positions about which they know something.

The argument goes back to those funny stories during the war when ribbon salesmen were put into agencies that dealt with steel, while steel experts were appointed to purchase cosmetics for Wacs.

How true these stories were, as a general practice, will never be known, but business men did discover that they often dealt with so-called government experts who knew nothing about their business.

The oustanding experts in commercial radio, television, electronics and similar matters will be found in those companies which deal with these commodities.

GEN. DAVID SARNOFF of RCA, for instance, has served our government in many capacities and to the country's advantage. He is one of the most expert in his field. Is he to be precluded from advising the FCC because his company has business before it? If so, must the FCC be limited to the clerk type of mind, the so-called career official who has had no direct experience with the problems he deals with, or to young lawyers who find government service a stepping-stone to jobs in private industry?

The Hoover Commission advocates establishing a special category of non-career experts in government, who will move in and out of government service. This, of course, does not apply to such posts as the chairmanship of the FCC except in principle; that is, that the country can be best served by men who know their job.

THE ADVANTAGE of the acceptance of such a principle is obvious in the career of Charles E. Wilson as secretary of defense. He has done an outstanding job, despite the fact that the company with which he was formerly connected and of which he was the president at the moment of his appointment does an enormous business with his department of the government.

No one today thinks of Wilson in terms of his former relationship with General Motors.

The assumption must not hold that men cannot divorce themselves from private interests once they enter government service, otherwise it is impossible to recruit the most competent men for government employment.

Rather it is to be assumed that once a citizen is so recruited, he devotes himself to that job with the same efficiency and singleness of purpose that gave him a favorable reputation in private enterprise. This is a question not of one man's appointment but of general policy.

Defendant Fails in Trick Against Sightless Judge

TRINIDAD, Colo. (AP)—The man told Peace Justice Tony Barros yesterday he was sorry but Rete Santisteven, charged with runing a stop sign, had been called out of town to tend an ailing relative.

He was a "good friend" of the defendant, the man said, and couldn't the case be continued.

Barros agreed, but at that moment Highway Patrolman James Hughes—who had arrested Santisteven—entered the courtroom and greeted the defendant by name.

Barros, who is blind, angrily fined Santisteven $10 and ordered him to jail for four days.

Ohio River Flood Crest Expected at Cincinnati Tonight

CINCINNATI (AP) — The U S weather bureau last night held to its earlier prediction that the Ohio River will crest here at 54.7 feet despite reports of scattered rainfall along the Ohio Valley.

The river will hit its peak—less than three feet above flood stage—at 1 p.m. today, the forecast said.

Upstream, the muddy waters already had begun to recede. The river was falling at Huntginton, W. Va., and at Ashland, Ky. A crest of 53.5 feet was reached late yesterday at Portsmouth. Flood stage there is 50 feet.

But the weather bureau at Huntington said there is a "possibility" that enough rain might fall in the next 36 hours to affect the river.

No serious damage was reported anywhere along the way.

More than 60 persons have been forced to leave their homes in lowlying sections of Cincinnati. In the Portsmouth area, three more families were flooded as Ohio River backwaters spread into the Little Scioto River valley.

Children in two Portsmouth schools got a holiday when water washed over school bus routes.

Waterfront War

By Victor Riesel

Out of a meeting this week in a Chicago hotel suite may flare a new civil war on the waterfronts of the nation.

VICTOR RIESEL

The saga soggy with the blood and tears of the docks — so carefully chronicled by films such as "On The Waterfront" and books such as the fine new one on the crusading Father John Corridan. "Waterfront Priest," published by Henry Holt—is about to be reopened for history by the Chicago parley.

The men attending this session hope to bring back into the AFL the independent longshoremen's association which was ousted by a tense federation convention in the Hotel Jefferson grand ballroom in St. Louis back in '53.

Except for old Joe Ryan, who is taking the rap and is awaiting a jail term, they are the same longshoremen's leaders who walked bitterly out of the Jefferson Hotel with talk of joining up with John L. Lewis. Now these men hope to walk back into the AFL through a door opened by some Teamsters Union officials.

THE CHICAGO MEETING may bring the ousted longshoremen into the Teamsters Brotherhood. This parley, after all, was scheduled by Jim Hoffa, whose title "ninth vice president" of the teamsters is a modest one indeed for a chap through whose portals pass some of labor's most influential men.

Working with Hoffa is the east coast teamster, Johnny O'Rourke, who always took the ouster of the longshoremen as a personal insult. Hoffa and O'Rourke have had three previous meetings with the independent longshoremen's leaders, Capt. William Bradley and Teddy Gleason, easily the most powerful figure in the bitterly criticized dockwallopers union.

Bradley has had pains in the stomach these past few months and only the other day left the comfort and retreat of an antiseptic hospital room for a smoke-filled hotel suite. The pains may be real or psychosomatic, for Bradley has been arguing for an independent maritime department inside the teamsters brotherhood.

THIS WOULD PERMIT him to take the International Longshoremen's Association intact into the Teamsters Union —but there are technical difficulties. The teamsters' constitution doesn't quite permit an independent national union to operate inside it. So the boys are trying to iron out that one.

If they do, the docks will be right back where it all started — two years ago, ten years ago, twenty investigations, two movies and several books ago.

The old International Longshoremen's Assn. will, of course, be opposed by the very forces inside the AFL which smashed precedent by ousting the dock union when George Meany ran his first AFL convention as president.

Meany doesn't want them. The AFL chief has never changed his mind on this waterfront crisis. He has refused to meet with any of the independent longshoremen's leadership. Many take for granted that he will continue to resist accepting them.

THIS MAN MEANY fights tough. You'll never quite get that out of all the feature pieces on him. You need to have watched him take the platform alone against John Lewis when the coal-diggers' chief insulted an impassive AFL convention. You need to listen to him when he thinks someone has said he's compromised with his principles.

You don't move him when he thinks he's right. And he believes he was right in fighting the waterfront union long before it became a movie script.

Meany, in the end, may not be able to prevent the old longshoremen's union from moving into the teamsters. But he will back up some of the teamsters — who themselves are not united — such as ruddy-faced Tom Hickey and the blond, husky AFL sailors chief, Paul Hall, who plan to raise a war chest for the fight against the ILA next year under any circumstances.

LAST YEAR THE sailors and the AFL's special committee jointly battled it out in a rough and interminable campaign against the ILA to win the docks in a National Labor Relations Board election. They lost by some 400 votes. They don't believe they will lose next time.

They're ready to sink another million dollars into the fight against the ILA, which won't have Lewis' $400,000 angeling it next time around.

The battle will swirl up and down the nation's docks once again. And those battles get rough.

Old Auto Fan

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

Millions of Americans are proud and happy owners of new shiny 1955 model motor cars.

But if you are going to have a second automobile in the family, Henry Austin Clark Jr. suggests you be a real rugged individualist and shop around for a fine old sturdy 1915 Model T Ford or a snazzy 1919 Stutz Bearcat.

HAL BOYLE

Clark, 37-year-old sugar heir, is one of the nation's leading antique car collectors. He has some 250 models, most of them manufactured before he was born.

Restoring antique autos is a hobby growing in popularity each year.

"There are now between 10,000 and 15,000 antique cars in captivity —that is, cars that have been restored and are in the hands of collectors," he said. "Before the Second World War there were only about 500.

"There are between 8,000 and 10,000 collectors, ranging from college boys to elderly millionaires. Some 1,000 now have five or more old cars. The restored cars are worth anything from a few hundred dollars up to, I would say, $10,000."

CLARK USES a new car himself for daily driving, but insists modern models lack many qualities of the old autos Granddad drove in the adventurous age of motoring.

"The new cars all have several extra feet of useless metal encasing nothing," he observed. "And a lot of them are plastered with chromium pasted on for no obvious reason.

"They've sacrificed individuality at the altar of mass production. Unless you pick an unusual two-tone job, you can't tell one car from another. But if you're driving an 1894 Fisson you don't have any trouble finding it in a parking lot.

"The old cars had a lot of other advantages. Fresh air, for one thing. And more visibility. You could see where you were going.

"I have to admit the new cars have better brakes. But if you get into a two-foot snowfall, an old car will plow right through it. A new car is too low. It just piles up the snow in front of it and stalls.

"A MODERN CAR is also lost in 12-inch mud. An old car wasn't. A Model T could go places that no other car since it could—except the jeep.

"Speed? That's nothing new in motor cars. In 1906 Fred Marriott made 127 miles an hour in a Stanley Steamer. The next year he was doing an estimated 180 to 190 when he hit a rough spot and overturned. The car's boiler went about half a mile down the track, but Fred survived.

"In the Paris to Madrid race back in 1903 they achieved a speed of 90 miles an hour. But they killed so many spectators along the way—I believe it was about 40—they had to call off the race."

"They had some horrible accidents in the old days, just as they do now. In terms of safety the only thing that hasn't changed in the automobile is the nut behind the wheel."

Clark believes the most valuable and desirable old car in the country is his 1910 Simplex sports car, which "will still do 80 to 90 miles an hour easily."

—:—

MANY OF THE antique cars he searches out to buy and restore are found in old family barns and estate garages. Others, surprisingly, are still on the roads.

"That can be embarrassing," he laughed. "Sometimes an owner gets indignant when you tell him you want to buy and preserve as an antique the car he drives every day.

"The owner may not necessarily be poor either. I understand the Astors have a 1911 Rolls Royce which they sometimes still use for afternoon occasions."

Clark, who recently sponsored the "Carnival of Cars" on Broadway, keeps most of his antiques in a museum at Southhampton.

One of his prize exhibits, a 1906 Adams-Farwell with a rotating engine that spins like a top, has a feature which Detroit might well consider putting into its 1956 model to please cautious wives.

"You can drive it from either the front or back seat," said Clark.

Cleveland Nike Sites Selected

Will Protect District From Airborne Attack

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland and U. S. Army authorities have decided upon two sites for a Nike installation to protect the area from hostile airborne attack.

One of the jet-propelled guided missile installations is planned for construction in the western section of suburban Bratenahl. The other is to be on 15 acres in the northeast corner of the filled land at Lakefront Airport.

Brig. Gen. Theodore W. Parker, leader of the Army group which has been studying places for building Nike, called the solution to the long and heated controversy "the best possible."

The construction is not expected to interfere with activities at the airport, on the northern end of East Ninth Street, except as it prevents use of all of the fill there.

The Bratenahl site will include a small part of Gordon Park and some private property, means of acquiring which has not yet been determined.

Edward W. Garfield, the suburb's mayor, expressed surprise at the decision when told of it by a reporter. He said he had not been notified and added:

"I can't tell yet what our reaction will be. We do not want to be in the position of opposing someing for the national good. On the other hand, we are worried about the life of our village."

Construction is planned to begin in about four or five months.

The negotiations between Gen. Green and Cleveland's Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze end a controversy that began when the Army requested the city's administration to approve construction of a Nike site in Edgewater Park. Many alternate sites have since been considered by the Army and the city.

Tiny Radioactive Gold 'Seeds' Used in Treatment of Cancer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Tiny gold seeds now are being used with good effect to destroy some cancers which the surgeon cannot remove, the American Cancer Society said today.

Reporting on research by Dr. William G. Myers of the Ohio State University medical center, the society said the gold pieces—each costing about a nickel—have established a valuable role in treatment of certain cancers.

Dr. Myers' work was supported by the National Cancer Institute, the Ohio State University development fund and the ACS.

The ACS said the gold seeds, snipped from slender wires of radioactive gold one-one-hundredth of an inch thick, are encased in a narrow tube of inert gold which then is slid into a hollow nylon thread.

Dr. Myers, who began his experiments with radioactive gold and other substances about six years ago, and his principal associates have used the elements on more than 29 patients during the last two years. Working with Myers have been Dr. Ulrich K. Henschke in radiation therapy and Dr. Arthur G. James in surgery.

ACS said the gold is sewn through tumors which the surgeon cannot remove completely, usually because the tumors have grown into vital organs which must be preserved.

In some cases, said the ACS, the radioactive gold erased all evidence of the cancers through which it was sewn.

Studies proved the gold has advantages over seeds containing radon, a gaseous product of radium. The solid particles can not escape as radon gas sometimes does, thus eliminating danger of gold seeping into normal tissues like bone and destroying them.

The portable equipment, said the ACS, automatically snips off gold wire at any desired length and implants the seeds with any required spacing in the gold tube which rests within the thread.

The radioactive gold, though much cheaper than radium, has a half-life of 2.7 days and a useful life in irradiating cancer of a little more than one week. Radium can be used for centuries.

The energy produced by the gold seeds equals that of an X-ray machine of 412,000 volts, said the society. The thread—often seven feet or more—is sewn through the unremovable cancer at the time of the operation. Often the seeds are planted in the tumor and left there permanently. No thread is used in these cases.

There's even more to Chevrolet styling than meets the eye!

This is beauty with a bonus . . . for Chevrolet styling is designed to add safety and comfort while you drive, and to return greater value when you trade.

Truly modern lines are shaped by usefulness. You can see what we mean in the deep crystal curve of Chevrolet's Sweep-Sight windshield . . . a dramatic style note, certainly, but one that stems from the need for wider, safer vision. Or take high-set taillights—they add to the impressive length of line . . . but they are up where they can be seen for safety's sake.

The smart louvers across the hood aren't just decoration . . . they mark the intake for the High-Level ventilation system for cleaner, fresher air. And the whole shape of the body—its lowness, the dipped belt line—is merely a reflection of a lowered center of gravity, the added stability.

This is truly functional styling that serves you better every mile, and preserves its value against the distant day when you trade. This is Body by Fisher—another Chevrolet exclusive in the low-price field. Come in and let us demonstrate that this new Chevrolet is just as exciting to drive as to look at!

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Athens County Sheriff George Bateman said he plans to file charges of armed robbery and shooting with intent to kill today against Frank Oiler, 32

Oiler was returned here last night after capture by Frank Wycinski, police chief in Corning, Ohio

Bateman said Oiler admitted taking the gun and car of Chauncey Town Marshal DeWitt Walker last Tuesday

Walker said the incident occurred after he found a man asleep in an auto, and asked for identification.

The marshal said after he established via radio that the car was stolen the man pulled a gun and commandeered the official car

Walker said he opened the car door and rolled out as the man started to drive away The man fired a shot but missed as Walker rolled down a bank, the marshal said

Walker's car was found abandoned about two hours later in nearby Jacksonville

Title Game Saturday

Semi-Final Action Slated For Tonight in Sectional

The remaining four teams in the Marion Class A Sectional cage tournament after two elimination sessions headed by undefeated Shelby and rugged Mansfield scrap for finals berths on the Coliseum floor tonight.

Shelby tests its 19-0 mark against Ashland's Arrows in the opener at 7 p.m. while Mansfield's tournament wise quintet, sporting a 16-5 record, opposes Galion in the nightcap scheduled for 8:20 p.m.

MANSFIELD'S defending sectional titlists are a solid choice to down Galion (11-8) in the nightcap but Shelby's marless record may be in for its severest test of the season from Ashland in the opener.

The Arrows show only an 11-8 mark but they have been up against tougher competition including Mansfield twice. Coach George Valentine's squad has captured seven of its last eight games after a slow start and in its latest test was pressed to whip an underdog Mansfield Madison quintet 63-60 in overtime in its opening sectional start.

Both squads have balanced scoring attacks. Larry Siegried, sophomore guard, is Shelby's big gun with 343 points in 19 games for an 18-point game average. Dick Cecil is next with 307 while Nick Davies has 281, Ed Stevens 266 and Lowell Jarrell 164. The lanky Whippets, who average nearly 6-2 in height, go into tonight's fray as Ohio's leading Class A scoring squad with over 80 points a contest.

ASHLAND, WHICH will throw three six-footers against Shelby, is paced by Center Dick Rankin with 287 points. Max Messner follows with 285 in one less game, while Tom Enck has hit for 240, Jim Runyon 205 and Dick Brubaker 124 after taking over a late season starting assignment.

Mansfield is the favorite over Galion because of its superior height and better record against foes including Portsmouth, Lima Central, Springfield and Hamilton during the year. George Swank, a giant 6-5 center, is Mansfield's top point getter with 431 points and a game average of 21.6. Phil Tinkey, a 6-4 forward, has 287 points for the year. Galion goes into the game with eight wins in its last nine starts after whipping Harding 62-59 in the Tigers' opening sectional start.

Winners tonight will clash in the finals Saturday night. Shelby is out to prove its squad is better than Mansfield, rated fifth in the latest Associated Press Class A cage poll. Both squads met in last year's sectional final, with Mansfield the victor 55-42.

Kenny Somerlot, tournament manager, announced today that 3,000 tickets had been allotted the four schools playing tonight and that 1,000 are left for sale to Marion fans. He urged local fans to arrive early for the best seats. Gates open at 6 p.m.

Thurman Shines

Cincinnati Brass, Senators Watch Rookie Performers

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

There isn't a major league manager who doesn't hope that a sleeper, such as Mickey Mantle, Bob Grim, Wally Moon or Willie Mays, turns up among the rookies striving to make baseball's big time.

That's the reason Manager Birdie Tebbetts of Cincinnati is taking a long and good look at Bob Thurman. Chuck Dressen of Washington thinks highly of Bob Kline and Walt Alston wouldn't be surprised if Bert Hamric made the Brooklyn varsity.

Tebbetts, already blessed with plenty of long ball hitters, figures the Redlegs have another in Thurman, 32-year-old Negro outfielder who admits he has "just about given up on ever getting into the major leagues."

Thurman, signed as a free agent after Tebbetts watched him pound the ball in the Puerto Rican winter league, also can play first base and pitch, if necessary. He hit .323 and had a 2-0 pitching record in Puerto Rico.

The Senators' high command thinks "we may have landed a bargain" in Kline, who hit .319 as a Yankee farm hand with Birmingham last season. He is given a good chance of making the grade at shortstop.

Hamric hasn't much chance of breaking into the Dodgers' Sandy Amoros-Duke Snider-Carl Furillo outfield combine, but he figures to make a battle of it for one of the reserve spots. The Sandy Fork, Va., native, who hits from either side of the plate, has power as attested by a dozen homers in a half season at St. Paul last year. Before a fractured hand put him out of commission, he hit .350.

The news was good from a number of camps where holdouts had been causing concern.

Minnie Minoso, the No. 1 White Sox holdout who had asked for a 100 per cent boost, finally settled for a $7,500 increase. That raised his salary to a reported $32,500.

Baltimore ended its holdout troubles with the signing of pitcher Lou Kretlow for $10,000. Catcher Sammy White was expected to write his signature on a Boston Red Sox contract today after holding out until the club approved his playing of basketball during the off season. The Red Sox also signed rookie pitcher George Susce.

But the biggest holdout of them all—the mighty Ted Williams—still hasn't put in his appearance at the Red Sox Sarasota camp.

And the Pirates have an $18,000 pact waiting for their slugging outfielder, Frank Thomas. But in Pittsburgh Thomas said he has had no official word on the contract.

Chug Ballinger Selected By Prexy Track Squad

Gary (Chug) Ballinger has been named captain of the Harding High School track squad for the approaching season. Ken Somerlot, coach of the Prexy thinclads, announced his election today following a meeting of the track lettermen.

The Harding runners will open their campaign April 2 when they take part in the annual Denison University indoor meet for high school competitors.

Brucellosis Tests Slated in Wyandot

A mobile testing laboratory of the Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Animal Industry, will test Wyandot County cattle for the dread disease of brucellosis.

The mobile unit will be set up in the county and all cattle of Wyandot County will be tested free of charge. Fifty-one per cent of the Wyandot cattlemen, owning 70 per cent of the cattle in the county, have requested the tests by petition. Farmers who wish to have cattle tested for brucellosis are requested to sign a petition for the service. Dairy Service Unit board of directors and their assistants are canvassing each township requesting cattle owners to sign the petitions.

The laboratory will make a ring test of a milk sample of each herd. If the ring test shows that the herd is free of brucellosis (Bangs), the test is ended with that herd. However, if the test shows that a possible reactor is in the herd, the entire herd can be individually blood tested free of charge through the service.

By signing the petition, a farmer is not required to follow any of the tests.

Following the first county-wide test, the service will be available about every 11 months thereafter.

Michigan hunters and trappers were paid $67,200 during 1954 as bounties on 3,715 coyotes, 23 wolves and 627 bobcats, reports the state conservation department.

Big Ten Silent On Video Plan, Awaits NCAA

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—The Big Ten was keeping an official silence today on the hot issue of the NCAA's 1955 football television program.

"We are just marking time until the NCAA meets in New York next week and comes up with a definite plan," said Bill Reed, assistant conference commissioner.

The NCAA was to have released its 1955 plan this week but Executive Director Walter Byers anounced in Kansas City yesterday that another meeting of the TV committee will be held in New York Monday and Tuesday.

The tentative NCAA plan was understood to call for a regional-national combination that stipulates that no team can appear on television more than once during the season. The Big Ten wants each school limited to two appearances, once away and once at home.

"The Big Ten has taken no position whatsoever on the pending NCAA plan," said Reed. "We will just wait and see what develops in the New York meeting."

Although the Big Ten TV committee huddled most of yesterday there was no official word on its discussions and members collared would not even give off-the-record comment.

One official had this to say: "How can we comment when the NCAA hasn't even come up with a definite plan? Our meeting this week was based primarily on the presumption that the NCAA would have released the plan by now as originally scheduled, giving us something to go on."

Meanwhile, faculty representatives and athletic directors buckled down to routine business that included further study of regulations on financial aid to athletes and eligibility problems.

Two eligibility cases involve Joe Morgan of Ohio State, second place finisher last year in the shot put, and Doug Stuart, Michigan State high jumper.

The faculty men must decide if each has used up all of his varsity eligibility. Stuart's case, especially, is somewhat unusual since he competed in Australia for two years as a student at Sydney Teachers College and also at Sydney University.

Wyandot Township Fire Department Gets Truck

UPPER SANDUSKY — Crane Township trustees have approved the purchase of a new fire truck for the township fire department at a total net cost of $15,874.50.

The bid of Stubbs Bros. of Upper Sandusky to supply a GMC chassis at $5,424.50 was accepted. The bid of Harry Sutphin and Associates of Columbus of $11,650 for the fire fighting equipment was accepted. The firm offered $1,500 trade-in for the old truck. Delivery will be made June 1.

Funds were authorized in a special levy approved by township voters last November.

Four American League players made five hits in one game during 1954. They were Ted Williams of Boston, Mickey Vernon of Washington, Harvey Kuenn of Detroit and Clint Courtney of Baltimore.

Lake in Wyandot Filled, Area Slated For Wildlife Plans

UPPER SANDUSKY — The water level in the new artificial Brownstown Lake, a project of the Wyandot Rod and Gun Club, today had reached the spillway after a 16 months' period of natural filling.

The four-acre lake is located one mile west of Brownstown on county road 97 and the J. A. Ober farm. The compacted earth dam and concrete drop spillway were completed in September of 1953. The work was done by members of the Rod and Gun club and Don Hall, soil conservationist in Wyandot County served as engineer.

A public fishing and recreation area was the purpose of the project and plans are being made by the club to continue the development of the area. Included is a wildlife plan for the area around the lake. Pine trees and multiflora rose living fence will be planted for wildlife cover and protection.

The Ohio Division of Wildlife recently placed three wood duck boxes in the lake and Joe Nucifera, division technician, is assisting the club with the development.

A picnic area near the dam will be completed in the near future.

Relatives of Crestline Collision Victim Sought

CRESTLINE — Authorities in Cleveland and the state highway patrol are attempting to locate relatives of Mrs. Phylhs Annette Small, 47, of Cleveland, who was killed Tuesday night in a two-car head-on collision on Route 30-N, east of Crestline.

Mrs. Small was a passenger in a car driven by Worcester R. Thomas, 44, of Canton, when the Thomas auto and one driven by Wilbur Pfeiffer, 48, of Findlay, collided head-on. Thomas and Pfeiffer are still patients in Crestline Emergency Hospital and are reported in 'fair" condition.

Mrs. Small's body is at the Garverick Funeral Home in Crestline.

Provides Seeds for Underfed

Merchant Ship Engineer Has Own 'Marshall Plan'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Patty Gardenseed, a one-man Marshall Plan, has set sail to "sow a green band around the world to offset the Red band."

Patty is really Aloysius Mozier, 49-year-old engineer on a merchant ship. He calls himself Patty Gardenseed. He began his campaign of bringing garden seeds to needy persons when he saw a young girl in Pusan, Korea, collapse and die of malnutrition several years ago.

"I decided to do something about it and bring food to these starving people," Patty said.

Already he has distributed more than half a million seed packages in various world ports. He has even been praised in the congressional record.

Patty's cabin aboard the Philippine Bear, which sailed yesterday for the Far East, was crammed with 100,000 vegetable seed packages.

The International Rotary Clubs are aiding Patty and will meet the ship in Korea, Japan, Philippines and other ports and help distribute the seeds.

Patty explained the Orientals are a proud people; "They won't take a handout but they will accept seeds because it helps them help themselves."

Patty, who has spent about $1,500 of his own money on the project, has received some tokens of gratitude. In Sumatra someone gave him a tiger which he presented to a zoo. A family in Malaya offered him a baby which he declined.

Sometimes handing out seeds has a lighter side.

In Indonesia a native took a package of Patty's seeds, tore off the top and calmly ate them.

"You're supposed to plant them, not eat them," Patty said.

"But they won't come up for several months," replied the native. "How do I know I'll be here then?"

Boys, 14 and 15, Nabbed in Auto Pilfering Here

Two teen-age car pilferers were taken into custody Thursday night before Marion police or the owner knew his car was ransacked.

This odd turn of events started at 8:12 p.m. when neighbors called police and reported two teen-age boys burning fuses at the rear of a house on Waterloo St. Investigating patrolmen talked to the boys and ordered them to appear at the police department today to talk to Juvenile Officer Virgil Campbell and explain where they got the flares.

At 8:42 p.m., Brooks Van Sickle of 257 Uncapher Ave. called police and reported that his car, parked at the rear of his home, had been ransacked sometime after 6:30 p.m. Included in the list of thinks stolen from the car were some railroad type warning flares.

Police immediately thought of the 14 and 15 year old boys burning the flares, went back and talked to them again and decided they apparently were the ones who ransacked Van Sickle's car. The boys are to appear before Campbell at 4 p.m. today at which time it will be decided what if any charges are to be filed against them in Juvenile Court.

In addition to the flares the pair allegedly took a flashlight and a pair of sun glasses from Van Sickle's car.

Burglar Alarm Sounds

A possible attempted burglary at Carroll's Jewelry early today was reported today by Marion police.

Police Chief Thomas Coon said that the burglar alarm on the store started ringing at 12:37 a.m. and investigation disclosed a man's footprints leading up to the door. He said it may have been a case of some one falling against the door and breaking the contacts setting off the alarm.

Other States Tougher

Expert Says Ohio's Easy Laws Lure Dope Traffic

WASHINGTON (AP)—Narcotic peddlers have moved into Ohio from other Midwest states with tougher narcotics violation penalties.

Narcotics Commissioner H. J. Anslinger, who told this to a House Appropriations subcommittee, said most of these peddlers are concentrated in Cleveland.

But one of his aides told a reporter there are a number of peddlers also operating "to a lesser extent" in Columbus and Toledo.

Anslinger, in testimony made public today, told inquiring congressmen that a large part of the Ohio narcotic traffic is in heroin.

In response to a question by Rep. Murray (D-Ill), Anslinger said that peddlers are converging on Ohio from Illinois and Michigan because the Ohio law goes easier on them when they're caught.

"Ohio," said Anslinger, "is surrounded by heavy-penalty states. The traffickers have moved into Ohio."

Anslinger said the following states are "most in need to clean up" their narcotic problems: Texas with 400 federal cases prosecuted in the last year; California with 307; New York with 396; Ohio with 185; Illinois with 156; Michigan with 129; Pennsylvania with 116, and Colorado with 78.

New Hampshire, Idaho, Vermont, Rhode Island and Wyoming had no federal narcotics convictions last year, he said

Minnesota had 19 cases. But Anslinger added:

"There is no problem in the State of Minnesota. I think the type of people has a lot to do with it.

"You find about one addict in every 25,000 of the general population in Minnesota, as compared, say, to one in 3,000 in the more heavily populated sections."

Family Service Society Makes Plans for Meeting

Members of the planning committee of the Family Service Society discussed plans for a membership meeting scheduled for March 22 when they met Thursday evening in the agency's office.

Rev. Harrison L. Ludwig presided for the meeting. Participants were Mrs. Smith Witter, Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Rea, Miss Margarett Topliff, Mrs. Gerald Davis, Mrs. Jess Stewart, Miss Vivian Hall, Mrs. Mary Alice O'Brien, Mrs. Edward Snyder and Mrs. Doris C. Maxwell.

Eight questions dealing with the scope of the agency service and the way it operates were chosen for presentation at the meeting which begins at 8 p.m. at the YMCA. Other questions from those attending the meeting will be included.

Persons attending the membership meeting will participate actively in small discussion groups discussing one or two of the questions. Their finding will then be presented through a panel composed of the recorders from each group to the assembled persons. The agency staff, Dr. Rea and Rev. Ludwig will serve as resource personnel, with Judge Edward J. Ruzzo as moderator for the panel.

The agency currently has a membership numbering 219. Membership eligibility is based on expressed interest in the family agency movement.

TO DISCUSS VACCINE

MOUNT GILEAD — The regular meeting of the Mount Gilead Parent Teachers Association will be held Monday night in the school auditorium, according to G. R. Blose, superintendent. Subject for the PTA meeting will be the new Salk polio vaccine. Mrs Irene McClelland of the Morrow County Health Department will present the discussion.

Radio and Television

By JOHN CROSBY

Water and Chloroform

If anyone is ever foolish enough to write the history of television for the 1954-'55 season, he will be forced to conclude that this is the year that the actors were forced to don either a white coat and a stethescope or a diving bell. The two most conspicuous manias of the year are the wanderlust and medicine.

JOHN CROSBY

It's been a great year for underwater adventure. Walt Disney came out with "20,000 Leagues Under the Sea" which got James Mason into a diving suit and submarine. Jane Russell, in the sexiest inspiration of the year, put on the briefest of bathing suits and an aqualung and went prowling about the deep.

And on television practically everyone got wet. On "Adventure" Charles Collingwood, narrating a perfectly splendid bit of film about fish, did the whole thing while standing knee deep in the Atlantic Ocean and wound up the half hour by diving headlong into it — in January.

JUST THE THER DAY "Home" showed Arlene Francis (on kinescope) off Catalina Island in a diving bell with TV camera and cameraman. When it was time to surface, something went wrong with the air pressure and instead of rising slowly and gently, the bell shot to the surface with great force. Miss Francis let out a scream that could be heard from coast to coast.

Last year everyone seemed to be climbing a mountain. This year, they're all falling into the ocean. In Miami Beach, on "Tonight," Steve Allen and Gene Rayburn were always getting pushed into a swimming pool. One of their guests, George de Witt, did imitations from a high board and fell in, ruining a $165 suit.

They just happened to pick a week when it was colder in Miami than in New York and practically everyone caught cold. When the performers weren't in the brine, they were on it, one feature of "Today" being a boat race across a swimming pool by Garroway, Jack Lescoulie and Frank Blair. No matter how you slice it, this will be known as the year of the great wetness.

I DON'T KNOW HOW LONG it'll last but it's sure a fine thing for the airline and railroad people while it does. "Home" has originated in Atlanta, Fort Worth, Catalina Island, Kutztown, Pa., in the Dutch country; Miami Beach, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, Milwaukee and San Francisco.

"Tonight," besides Miami, has been in Dayton, where it originated in the National Cash Register auditorium and — just the other night — in Baltimore where it came from a roundhouse.

(On this latter one Steve Allen dove into view on one of those railroad handcars. Arlene Francis has been seen in a helicopter, Allen on a handcar and practically everyone in a bathing suit.)

"Tonight" will later go to Cleveland and Lancaster, Pa. (There's a run on Pennsylvania Dutch country right now.) "Toast of the Town" has been in Philadelphia and Los Angeles, and plans to go to Chicago and Milwaukee. "Strike It Rich" has been in several Midwest cities, and the "Big Payoff" has played Philadelphia, Chicago and Boston. The actors are sure seeing America.

Of course, all these people are amateurs next to Bob Hope whose show has originated (on film) from Greenland, Goose Bay, England and France this season.

AS FOR THE MEDICAL hit, you can hardly avoid it on TV any more. Last Monday, for example, "The Reader's Digest" drama featured a delicate brain operation "Medic" was — well, "Medic." "Montgomery Presents" had Jackie Cooper landing in a sanitarium with tuberculosis where he stayed the rest of the hour.

At the same time there was a film called "Doctor's Downfall" and on "Studio One" there was a story about the transfer of one guy's skull. Altogether the smell of chloroform was overpowering—and all in one evening.

Concrete Pipe Dugouts

Civil Defense Chief Has New Bomb Shelter Ideas

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Val Peterson, civil defense boss, seems to be having new ideas all the time on how people can escape the radioactive fallout of a hydrogen bomb.

Here are some of them:

Last July he said the government was planing a device that could sound an advance warning in each home in the target area, something that could be installed in a bedroom and set off by a change in the electric current.

On Feb. 20 he expressed the thought the problem of radioactivity could be licked if every person was willing to build shelters in the back yard, like a simple cyclone shelter for $180 or a concrete one for perhaps $1,000.

3 New Ideas

Yesterday he offered three brand new ideas to a Senate Armed Services subcommittee which is holding a series of hearings on civil defense problems:

Evacuees could hide in miles of concrete pipe—four feet in diameter and covered with three feet of dirt—built along the highways.

Or—machines could run along the highways digging beside them miles of trenches 2 feet wide and 6 feet deep for persons fleeing the blast area.

Or—a series of concrete buildings could be set up as shelters along the highways.

While Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass), a committee member, didn't say Peterson was having pipe dreams, he did express distaste for the thought of people lying end to end in pipes and called the trench plan "unrealistic."

Lack of Interest

One of Peterson's greatest handicaps is lack of enough public interest in civil defense. It was an interest which probably perked up in mid-February when the Atomic Energy Commission issued its now-famous report.

It said the deadly radioactive fallout from a hydrogen bomb like the one exploded in the Pacific last year could contaminate an area of roughly 7,000 square miles, or about the size of New Jersey.

But people may have relaxed again this week when Sir Winston Churchill said the Soviet Union could not match this country in H-bombs for three or four years, spoke of present American superiority, and warned the Russians not to try tricks.

$650,000 Settlement Asked in Ship Sinking

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Kinsman Transit Co., owner of the lake freighter Steinbrenner, indicated yesterday that $650,000 was more than the company is willing to pay to settle claims resulting from the ship's sinking. Seventeen crewmen died and 14 were injured in the sinking, and admiralty lawyers proposed yesterday in a conference with Federal Judge Paul Jones to settle all claims for $650,000. More conferences between the lawyers for both sides will be held later this month.

2 PEOPLE ASPHYXIATED

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Coroner David A. Belinky last night ruled accidental death by asphyxiation for Theophis Stevens, 24, and Mrs. Mary Green, 28, whose bodies were found yesterday in a parked automobile. A mail truck driver found the bodies. Police said the car's ignition key was on and the fuel tank empty.

Legion Revokes Charter Of Post 59 in Ironton

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The executive committee of the Ohio American Legion has revoked the charter of Ironton's Frank J. Goldcamp Post No. 59.

State Adjutant Joseph S. Deutschle said yesterday the action was on charges of "non-feasance and conduct unbecoming a post and detrimental to the name and reputation of the American Legion."

M. M. Corothers, state Legion publicity director, said the action came after several raids on the post's downtown Ironton club, the latest conducted last month by city police.

Club manager Joe Banker said he did not know what the charges were, but said the post will ask for a hearing and appeal the revocation.

Crawford Case Settled

BUCYRUS—Mrs. Carrie Frazier, Bucyrus, defendant in a $1,050 action brought against her by Helen Woody, Dayton, confessed judgment in favor of the plaintiff for $300 in a trial lasting about one hour in Crawford County Common Pleas Court here Tuesday.

Judge John C. Carroll said that in addition to the $300 judgment, Mrs. Frazier had paid the plaintiff $450 a few days ago.

The plaintiff, in her amended petition filed Nov. 14, 1953, charged that $1,050 was due her for personal loans made to Mrs. Frazier to aid her in building a home in 1952.

The case was scheduled for trial before a jury. The jurors were dismissed after both parties had waived trial by jury.

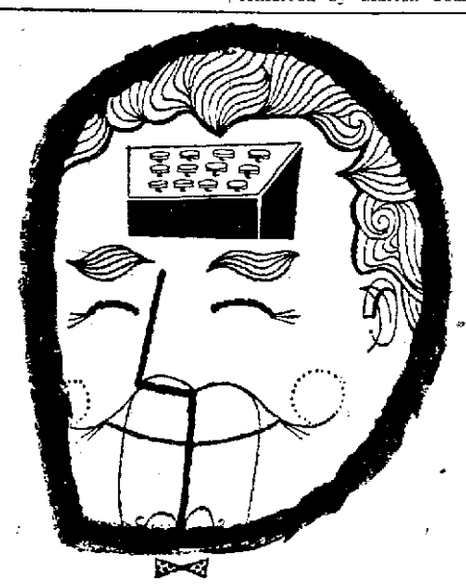
FIRST CANAL?

DEDHAM, Mass. (UP) — This town claims the site of America's first canal. A tablet says the canal known as Mother Brook, was built "before 1640." The canal, now unused, connects the Charles and Neponset Rivers.



how to be friendly although a bank teller

What's behind that smile you receive from a National City Bank teller?

Well, first there's a lot of experience. And a good brain for figures. But to make it even easier for him to serve you better, each teller has an automatic calculating machine at his finger tips.

That way, he can be efficient and friendly at the same time.

And that helps make National City a better place to bank.
